IV. Research & Development

The Company has invested the capital in R&D totaling NT$387,411,000, i.e. 6.66% of the operating revenue, in 2023. The research and development results are also on track with the Company's scheduled progress.

V. Summary of Business Plan for 2024

- (I) Operation Policies
 - (1) Combine the external technology with the Company's R&D resources to develop products that are competitive and meet the demands of customers and the market.

- (2) Continue to promote business opportunities for derivative products by strengthening product development projects with the operators.
- (3) Enhance the management efficiency of the plant and continuously optimize the production process and production technology to reduce costs and increase the yield.
- (4) Introduce automation and labor saving in production operations to reduce labor demand.

(II) Sales Forecast and its Basis

In 2024, the overall development of the telecommunications equipment manufacturing industry is expected to be affected by a number of uncertain factors such as interest rate hikes in Europe and the United States, geopolitics, and climate anomalies. Global economic growth is expected to remain low, which in turn will slow down the sales momentum of the network communications industry. Under the trend of chain restructuring, Taiwanese OEMs will push up operating costs and further reduce the profit margins of the industry.

However, the global market will continue to benefit from the trend of Netcom equipment upgrades in 2023. The digital application market will continue to expand, increasing the demand for artificial intelligence, IoT, blockchain, cloud computing services, and other emerging technology applications. This will drive the demand for Netcom equipment to grow. Additionally, various governments have actively promoted national broadband projects to improve network coverage and optimize the network user experience. The AI wave has driven the demand for technology companies to actively invest in the construction of large data centers, which has driven the sales performance of related Netcom equipment. This growth will further boost the growth momentum of network communication equipment manufacturers.

Overall, although the global economy is still subject to uncertainties such as currency tightening, it is expected that the gradual relief of the inventory depletion problem of customers in Europe and the United States will drive manufacturers to replenish the demand momentum. The AI boom will drive the demand for high-end switches and other Netcom products. The Company will also actively develop and add value to products, and continue to work with carriers to develop new products, in order to face the advantages and disadvantages of external market factors.

VI. The strategy and important production and sales policy of the Company for the future

- (I) We specialize in the manufacturing of communication network equipments and are actively developing towards the digital convergence industry with the concept of digital home.
- (II) We are committed to the automatic process for production and establish a perfect production mechanism; effectively reduce labor cost to increase the profitability.
- (III) Focus on product feature development to build product differentiation to avoid price competition in order to win business opportunities.
- (IV) Improve the cost control and shorten the product development cycle.

VII. Impact from External competition, regulations and overall business environment

(I) Impact from external competition: Product development in the networking industry is changing rapidly, but chip solutions are becoming more readily available, thus lowering the technology threshold; while product innovation is accelerating, if the company takes too long to develop products, it will miss the opportunity to enter the market. In recent years, the industry's gross profit has been compressed, and the Company needs to continuously reduce costs and improve production efficiency in order to maintain its profitability.

- (II) Impact from the regulatory conditions: The Company complies with government policies and laws, and its finance, auditing and legal departments are well informed of important policy or legal changes in order to comply with regulations and global trends in order to ensure the smooth operation for the Company.
- (III) Impact from the overall business environment: Due to the increasing complexity of the overall business environment, the Company will consider the industry profile and observe the overall economic development when evaluating various resource investments and business strategies, and will integrate internal technology and development resources to seek the best business opportunities.

Thank you all, and we wish all shareholders
All the best!

Board Chairman: Chi-Ruei Huang Manager: Ching-Hui Lin Accounting Supervisor: Jing-Yuan Hou

Note 1: Directors' names are presented separately (for corporate shareholders, the name of the corporate shareholder and its representatives are stated separately), whereas the - amount of benefits and allowances are presented in aggregate sums. Any Directors who co-headed the President or Vice President positions are disclosed in this table and in Table (3-1) or (3-2) below.

- Note 2: Refers to Director's remuneration in the last year (including salaries, allowances, severance pay, various bonuses and incentives, etc.).
- Note 3: Represents the amount of directors' remuneration that the board has approved as part of the latest earnings appropriation.
- Note 4: Refers to compensations for services rendered (including travel, special allowances, various subsidies, accommodation, corporate vehicle and other in-kind benefits).

 Where housing, cars, vehicles, or personal allowances were granted, the nature and cost of assets, the rental rates (calculated based on actual or fair value), cost of petrol and other subsidies are also disclosed. Where personal drivers were allocated, please make a footnote disclosure explaining the amount of salaries made to drivers, but do not count them as part of the remuneration paid to the above beneficiaries.
- Note 5: Refers to any salaries, allowances, severance pay, bonuses, incentives, travel allowances, special allowances, subsidies, accommodation, vehicles and in-kind benefits that the director received in the last year for assuming the role of a company employee (such as President, Vice President, manager or other employee). Where housing, cars, vehicles, or personal allowances were granted, the nature and cost of assets, the rental rates (calculated based on actual or fair value), cost of petrol and other subsidies are also disclosed. Where personal drivers were allocated, please make a footnote disclosure explaining the amount of salaries made to drivers, but do not count them as part of the remuneration paid to the above beneficiaries. Part of the salary expense was recognized according to IFRS2 "Share-based Payment." Amounts including employee stock options, RSAs and subscription to cash issues are treated as remuneration.
- Note 6: Refers to any compensation that the director received (in cash or in shares) in the last year for assuming the role of an employee (such as President, Vice President, manager or other employees). The amount of employee compensation proposed by the board of directors in the last year has been disclosed (where the amount could not be estimated, the actual amount paid in the last year was presented instead). Table 1-3 has also been completed for reference.
- Note 7: The disclosure includes all companies covered by the consolidated financial statements (including the Company), and represents total amount of remuneration paid by all companies above to the Company's directors.
- Note 8: The amount of remuneration paid by the Company to each director has been disclosed in ranges.
- Note 9: The details represent the range of remuneration paid by the consolidated entity (including the Company) to each director.
- Note 10: After-tax profit refers to the amount of profit shown in the latest financial reports of the consolidated/standalone entity.
- Note 11: a. This field represents all forms of remuneration the Director has received from the Company's invested businesses other than subsidiaries or parent company (If none, please specify "None".)
 - b. For directors who received remuneration from invested businesses other than subsidiaries, amounts received from these invested businesses have been added to column I of the remuneration brackets table. In which case, column I will be renamed " Parent Company and All Invested Businesses".
 - c. Remuneration refers to any returns, compensation (including compensations received as an employee, director and supervisor) and professional service fees which the Company's directors received for serving as directors, supervisors or managers in invested businesses other than subsidiaries, or parent company.

*The basis of remuneration disclosed above is different according to the basis of the Income Tax Act; hence the above table has been prepared solely for information disclosure, and not for tax purpose.

- 2. Remuneration to Supervisors: Not applicable, as the Company established the Audit Committee in replace of supervisors and abolished the supervisor system in 2016.
- 3. Remuneration to the President and Vice Presidents (individual disclosure by name and amount):

Note A : Vice President – Yu-Hsing Liang retired on March 31st, 2024.

Note 1: The "Top 5 Senior Managers" refer to the Company's management. The standards governing identification the management shall be subject to the requirements applicable to the "management" referred to in the letter of Securities and Futures Commission, Ministry of Finance under Tai-Cai-Zhen-3-Zi No. 0920001301 dated March 27, 2003.

The principles for calculating the remuneration to the "top 5 senior managers" are based on the total of the Salaries, Retirement Pension, Bonuses and Allowances received by the managers from the companies included into the consolidated financial companies and the employment remuneration received by them (namely, the sum of A+B+C+D). Then, the top 5 senior managers are identified as the top 5 managers receiving the highest remuneration in order. Any directors who serve as said managers concurrently shall

- complete the form (4-1).
- Note 2: Please specify the salaries, allowances, and severance pay made to the top 5 senior managers in the most recent year.
- Note 3: Please specify other compensation such as bonus, incentives, travel allowances, special allowances, other allowances, accommodation, dormitory and corporate vehicles or other in-kind benefits made to the top 5 senior managers in the most recent year. Where housing, cars, vehicles, or personal allowances were granted, the nature and cost of assets, the rental rates (calculated based on actual or fair value), cost of petrol and other subsidies are also disclosed. Where personal drivers were allocated, please make a footnote disclosure explaining the amount of salaries made to drivers, but do not count them as part of the remuneration paid to the above beneficiaries. Part of the salary expense was recognized according to IFRS2 "Share-based Payment." Amounts including employee stock options, RSAs and subscription to cash issues are treated as remuneration.
- Note 4: Represents the amount of employee remuneration distributed to the Top 5 senior managers (in cash or in shares), which the Board of Directors has passed as part of the most recent earnings appropriation (where the amount could not be estimated, a calculation was made based on last year's payout ratio). Table 1-3 has been prepared in addition to the above details.
- Note 5: Please disclose the total of remuneration paid by all companies included into the consolidated financial statements (including the Company) to the top 5 senior managers.
- Note 6: After-tax profit refers to the amount of profit shown in the latest financial reports of the consolidated/standalone entity.
- Note 7: a. This field represents all forms of remuneration the top 5 senior managers have received from the Company's invested businesses other than subsidiaries or parent company (If none, please specify "None")
 - c. The remuneration refers to any returns, compensation (including remuneration to employees, directors and supervisors) and professional service fees which the Company's top 5 senior managers received for serving as directors, supervisors or managers in invested businesses other than subsidiaries or parent company.
- *The basis of remuneration disclosed above is different according to the basis of the Income Tax Act; hence the above table has been prepared solely for information disclosure, and not for tax purpose.

5. Managers receiving employee remuneration and state of distribution

The Board resolved on March 6, 2024 that no 2023 employee remuneration should be distributed.

- 6. Amount of remuneration paid in the last 2 years by the Company and all companies included in the consolidated financial statements to the Company's directors, supervisors, President, and Vice Presidents, and their respective proportions to the net income, as well as the policies, standards, and packages by which they were paid, the procedures through which remunerations were determined, and their association with business performance.
 - (1) Disclosure of remuneration in the most recent 2 years paid by the Company and all companies included in the consolidated financial statements to the Company's Directors, Supervisors, President, and Vice Presidents as a percentage of net profit after tax.

- (IX) Disclosures relating to the execution of internal control system:
 - 1. Declaration of Internal Control

Zinwell Corporation

Declaration of Internal Control System

Date: December 31, 2023

The following declaration was made based on the 2023 self-assessment of the Company's internal control policies:

- I. The Company is aware that the establishment, execution, and maintenance its internal control policies are the responsibility the Company's Board of Directors and Managers; such policies were implemented throughout the Company. The purpose of this system is to provide reasonable assurance in terms of business performance, efficiency (including profitability, performance, asset security etc), reliable, timely and transparent financial reporting, and regulatory compliance.
- II. Internal control policies are prone to limitations. No matter how robustly designed, effective internal control policies merely provide reasonable assurance to the achievements of the three goals above. Furthermore, environmental and situational changes may affect the effectiveness of internal control policies. However, self-supervision measures were implemented within the Company's internal control policies to facilitate immediate rectification once procedural flaws were identified.
- III. The Company evaluates the effectiveness of its internal control policy design and execution based on the criteria specified in "Regulations Governing the Establishment of Internal Control Systems by Public Companies" (hereinafter referred to as the "Regulations"). The criteria introduced by the "Regulations" consisted of five major elements, each representing a different stage of internal control: 1. Control environment, 2. Risk evaluation and response, 3. Procedural control, 4. Information and communication, 5. Supervision. Each element further contains several items. Please refer to the Regulations for the details.

(VI) Dividend Policy and the Status of Implementation

1. The Company's dividend policy:

The Company may not distribute dividends or share profit if there are no earnings available to do so.

Annual surpluses concluded by the Company are first subject to taxation and reimbursement of previous losses, followed by a 10% provision for legal reserve and provision of special reserve as the laws may require. Any surpluses remaining shall be added to unappropriated earnings accumulated from previous years and designated as cumulative distributable earnings, which the board of directors may propose to distribute according to the terms of the dividend policy outlined in Paragraph 4 of this Article. Dividends that are distributed in the form of new shares will have to be resolved in a shareholder meeting before proceeding.

The Company may, in compliance with Paragraph 5, Article 240 of The Company Act, authorize the board of directors to distribute dividends and profit-sharing wholly or partially in cash at its discretion and seek acknowledgment from shareholders afterwards, provided that such decision is made in a board of directors meeting where more than two-thirds of the board is present, and voted in favor by more than half of all directors present at the meeting.

The Company shall set its dividend policy in shareholders' best interest after taking into consideration the current state and future prospect of the investment environment, the domestic and foreign competitive landscape, capital expenditure plans, and operational requirements. No less than 20% of distributable earnings shall be allocated as dividends (the distributable earnings mentioned here refer to the amount of current net income net of legal reserves and special reserves). Dividends can be paid in shares or in cash, and cash dividends shall amount to no less than 8% of total dividends.

The Company may, subject to compliance with Article 241 of the Company Act, distribute all or part of its legal/special reserves either in cash or by issuing new shares proportional to shareholders' existing shareholding percentage. The board of directors is authorized to pay out reserves in cash, provided that the decision is resolved in a board meeting with more than two-thirds of board members present, voted in favor by more than half of attending directors, and reported in the upcoming shareholder meeting.

2. The dividend proposed (resolved) to be distributed this year: (already passed by the Board of Directors but pending approval by a shareholders' meeting)

For the Company's 2023deficit compensation plan, as the Company suffers loss in 2023, no stock dividends would be distributed accordingly. Meanwhile, the Board of Directors plans not to distribute the employee remuneration and director remuneration.

Note 2: In accordance with the "Regulations Governing the Publication of Financial Forecasts of Public Companies", the Company is not required to disclose the financial forecast information for the fiscal year 2023.

(VIII) Remuneration employees and directors/supervisors

1. The information about remuneration to employees and directors/supervisors referred to herein:

As an incentive for employees and the management team, annual profits concluded by the Company (i.e. pre-tax profits before employee and director remuneration) are subject to employee remuneration of no less than 3% and director remuneration of no higher than 3%. However, profits shall first be reserved to offset against cumulative losses, if any, before the remainder can be distributed as employee/director remuneration in the above percentages. Share-based or cash payment of employee remuneration and cash payment of director remuneration are subject to resolution in a board meeting with more than two-thirds of the whole directors present, and voted in favor by more than a half of all attending directors. This decision shall also be reported in a shareholders' meeting.

2. The accounting for changes to the estimation basis for the remuneration to employees and directors/supervisors, changes to the calculation basis for stock dividends, and discrepancies between the amounts actually paid and the amounts estimated:

The Company didn't to distribute the remuneration to employees and directors in 2023. No stocks or remuneration was distributed to employees in 2023.

- 3. Information on the proposal for remuneration to employees and directors passed by the Board of Directors
 - (1) Amount of remuneration distributed to employees in cash and remuneration distributed to directors:
 - The Board resolved on March 6, 2024 that no remuneration should be distributed to employees and directors in 2023.
 - (2) Number of the bonus shares proposed to be distributed to employees, and the proportion thereof to the capital increase out of earnings:

Not applicable, as the Company did not distribute the bonus shares to employees.

4. Actual payment of remuneration to employees/directors/supervisors in the previous year (including the number of shares allocated, the sum of cash paid, and the price at which shares were issued), and any differences from the figures estimated (explain the amount, the cause, and treatment of such discrepancies.

(II) Business performance in summary

(1) Industries, the status quo and future development

Digital television is a sort of television transmission skill that converts the television program picture signals into a series of data after digital processing before transmission into the users' home by means of digital modulation technology. Compared with traditional analog television, such digital television is far superior to traditional analog television transmission in terms of picture quality, sound quality, bandwidth efficiency, security and functions to render services. As a very natural result, in recent years, governments around the world have targeted digital television as their very goals and targets in government administration. The current digital television transmission methods today can be roughly divided into four types as: Receiving cable television, satellite, terrestrial broadcasting and Internet (IP/DSL).

A. HDTV Set-Top-Box/ Digital TV Module

Throughout the world, the digital television system is roughly divided into four major system specifications: American ATSC System, European DVB-T System, Japanese ISDB-T System. In China, a very huge market, they have as well launched a customized standard DMB-T/H on the terrestrial broadcasting system. The major gaps among them lie in the strong mobile reception capability amidst the European system where the television can still be clearly watched even when a vehicular speed reaches 130 kmh. Moreover, the European system can form a single-frequency broadcasting network (SFN) which significantly helps establish and improve the viewing excitement in the poorly viewed areas, very helpful to enhance the broadcast stations. The American system lacks these two key functions, but is structured relatively simpler. When it comes to the performance of the Japanese system, it is quite similar to that of the European system.

The international standards and referential areas adopted for digital television signal transmission systems in various countries are enumerated as below:

| transmission systems in various countries are chamerated as ociow. | | | | | | | | |
|--|----------------------------|--------|-----------|--------|--------------------------------------|--|--|--|
| | United States | Europe | Japan | Taiwan | S. Korea | | | |
| Digital mobile broadcasting television (mobile television) | DVB-H | DVB-H | ISDB-T | DVB-H | T-DMB | | | |
| Digital satellite television | DVB-S | DVB-S | ISDB-S | DVB-S | S-DMB (Mobile phone reception) | | | |
| Digital cable television | OpenCable | DVB-C | DVB-C | DVB-C | DVB-C | | | |
| Digital terrestrial wireless television | ATSC DVB-T ISDB-T DVB-T AT | | | | ATSC | | | |
| Wireless broadband internet mobile phone | | | BCMCS / M | MBMS | | | | |

Digital broadcasting is far superior to the current analog signal system in terms of picture clarity, anti-noise, resolution level, sound quality, and bandwidth efficiency. Moreover, it has 4–6 times more channels than an analog signal. Terrestrial broadcasting serves more than 1 billion viewers throughout the world in a sharp comparison with the cable television that serves approximately 250 million viewers and satellite television that serves approximately 70 million viewers. Moreover, the terrestrial broadcasting system dominates the advantage of viewing services free of charge. That suggests the digital terrestrial broadcasting market is still quite stable with huge potential for development ahead.

At the present moment, except the U.S. (Advanced Television System Committee; ATSC) standard for digital reception in the United States, South Korea among Asian countries also adopts ATSC as its domestic digital broadcasting standard to serve their clients. Thanks to the wholehearted support with the government's policy, South Korea has achieved full digitization toward broadcast digital television. At the moment, the countries that adopt American ATSC include the United States, Canada, Mexico, South Korea, among others.

The Japanese ISDB is adapted from the European DVB and is adopted in fewer regions around the world with only Japan and Brazil in use. Throughout the world, the main standards adopted are primarily European DVB and American ATSC. Countries that use European DVB are not only European countries alone, but also include Australia, New Zealand, India, Singapore, and others as the specifications adopted by most countries today.

At the present moment the terrestrial digital broadcast STB can be roughly divided into two categories, i.e. the high-end and low-end ones. The low-end STB refers to the basic conversion of digital broadcast signals into analog signals that can be received by analog television systems while the high-end STB includes built-in hard disk and external modem, serving such functions as, notably, EPG, real-time recording, and surround sound, among other functions. Until 2005, the global market had been dominated by low-end STBs and after 2005, the global shipments of high-end STBs exceeded 30%, in particular when Internet television came into being and started to provide interactive contents and services, and the high-end STB market grew by leaps and bounds.

B. CABLE Set-Top-Box

The Cable STB markets primarily lie upon North America where, nevertheless, the market penetration rate is nearly saturated in full. In recent years, there has been no replacement demand over there. In addition, cable television operators are facing the impact of the economic downturn, and, as a very natural result, they have reduced their capital budgets and actively carried out industrial mergers. The entire Cable STB markets are showing a sign of decline.

Cable STB is primarily divided into three types, i.e. Analog, Advanced Analog, and Digital. Analog STB is a traditional STB and Advanced Analog STB is, other than the Analog function, further serving interactive functions, e.g. networking. As for the Digital STB, it is known as an STB with the ability to receive digital broadcasts.

Amidst the disadvantageous factors such as the impact of the economic recession in various industries throughout the world and the lack in obvious replacement demand in the major market, notably North America, we observe the global Cable STB markets and believe the shipments can only maintain a slow growth. Amidst its user growth momentum, nevertheless, the future will focus on Asia where the user growth rate is higher than regions elsewhere. Cable STB is still playing the key role for digital cable television. The consumers' demand for digital content and the increase in the number of channels brought about by digitalization, interactive television services, PVR, VOD and other related applications are also the growth momentum for Cable STB in the future and quite conducive toward future growth.

C. Digital Satellite STB

The development of digital satellite broadcasting is relatively mature and is expected to continually grow at a steady pace in the future. North America represents the largest market for digital satellite broadcasting with an average shipment volume between 12 million and 18 million units per annum, accounting for 60% to 70% of the entire global market. In the days and years ahead, the market growth will primarily come from two factors: the growth of digital viewers and the replacement demand for such products.

In Europe, the development of pay satellite television services is concentrated in the UK, France, Italy, Spain, Germany and Scandinavia. In Western Europe with many and dense countries over there, in order to expand the scale of the economy, pay satellite television service providers have expanded their services to the neighboring countries in addition to operating their own businesses at home. Other than the effort of poaching cable television users, there are still nearly 15 million users in Western Europe for free or analog satellite television, plus traditional users who receive free terrestrial broadcasting television services who have not yet converted to digital television services. In order to attract the aforementioned groups of traditional free television service users, pay satellite television providers have launched low prices and service combinations programs in an attempt to lower the barriers to service entry.

The Asian market has recorded not bad growth in recent years. Other than China, India also has, as well, demonstrated growth potential. Other countries in Central and South America, e.g. Brazil, Mexico, and Argentina, and those Eastern European nations like Romania and Russia, have, as well, demonstrated significant development potential. In an emerging market, the relevant product specifications, changes in the markets and the very updates of service providers are worthy of our continuous watchfulness. We anticipate that emerging markets shall become one of our long-term growth momentums toward the satellite STB market.

D. IPTV Box

The Internet has been developed and evolved from the traditional text and graphics to the current audiovisual stage. Where all major websites try to add video contents onto their web pages, YouTube further provides a platform for users to upload their self-portrait short films that has led the trend, and even attracted Google to acquire YouTube at a gigantic high price of 1.6 billion U.S. dollars. This fact proves the advent of the Internet Video era.

Technologically, IPTV (Internet Protocol Television) is a type of television service that uses a broadband network to transmit program content into IP packets. From a functional perspective, it can also be termed as an interactive network television. Toward users, they can watch IPTV by means of PC, IP STB plus television and Internet mobile phones.

The hardware system architecture of an IPTV is divided into three parts, i.e. the front-end, the broadcasting service and user-end. The front-end collects and stores such contents including those received from satellite, terrestrial, cable or other means and then such content is compressed, converted, coded, and formatted. Finally, the encryption process is completed. The broadcasting service is to cast the encrypted unit from the video server, and authenticate the client device, and transmit the DRM authorization to the authenticated user terminal device through the DRM (Digital Rights Management) Server so that the users can check the content of the program into decryption and free play.

The broadcast service area is composed of the network connected to the cable television, the telecommunications service providers and the like as well as the corresponding broadband networks. This area also includes the backbone IP network and the local IP network. The main functions of these two are for video and audio routes and switching transmission, the cable television front-end and telecom operators then transmit such to the users through the head-end DSLAM equipment. In an attempt to receive IPTV, a user needs to have an environment equipped with broadband and hardware capable of connecting to an external network. Normally, with an IP STB plus a TV or PC, and related software for the user interface as well as the entire IPTV hardware device. In between, that user shall, as well, be equipped with media management, user management, charging mechanism and other software before satisfactory application.

(2) The relevance of the industry, the upper, middle and the downstream

In terms of the Company's industry relevance, the upstream primarily supplies substrates, e.g. semiconductors, transistors, resistors, capacitors, inductors, printed circuit boards, transformers, filters and such parts & components. The products so produced are supplied to the downstream like telecommunications service providers, cable television security industry, military industry, optical fiber, microwave communication industry as well as transportation industry.

(3) Various development trends for the target products and the facts of competition therein:

Such digital broadcasting-related products have emerged and been developed by leaps and bounds in recent years. Many specification formulations, license approvals and the establishment of associations have all come into being just in recent years. There are still lots of more products and specifications that are in the experimental or verification stage.

Here at the Company, other than the efforts in research & development on the grounds of established standard specifications, we have applied for a variety of verification, certifications and have further team up with the chip manufacturers into joint development.

Toward the products of new generation, we have tried to use mature chips to make our products more stable.

Here at the Company, we began to develop digital STB and other related products as early as ten years ago. Thanks to the Company's excellent software and hardware R&D team members plus years of accumulated hands-on experience in the R&D of transmission products and image-related products, our Company has become one of the very few in Taiwan in possession of specifications prevalent in both Europe and the United States. We have, as well, accumulated hands-on experiences accumulated toward specifications prevalent in the United States, Japan and IP STBs in China which we have been quite proud of.

 - (A) Digital Satellite Communication Transmission System.
 - (B) Digital cable video transmission system.
 - (C) Digital video converter related products.
- (IV) Long-term and short-term business development programs

- (1) Short-term business development programs:
 - (A) The efforts to improve production & marketing programs and to update technology & know-how in coordination with the requirements in the mainstream markets and strategic customers for assure supply in real time and to minimize inventory burdens.
 - (B) The efforts into wholehearted research & development into new products, dominate the very pulsation in the market to cut short the time required for design and boost the competitive edge for our products. Meanwhile, we have virtually expanded market shares of the products to promptly meet market demands.
 - (C) We successfully integrate the IP BOX function into the digital television machine to open up a larger market space.
 - (D) We maintain the Company's technological leadership well and consolidate the Company's manufacturing advantages through the development and introduction into updated new products.

(2) Long-term business development programs

- (A) The efforts to set up integrated research & development and market survey organization with wholehearted efforts to bring in up-to-date products, cut short duration required for design, focusing on new market development in the hope to go into full scale marketing as soon as possible.
- (B) We make maximum possible endeavor to utilize a variety of manufacturing process, production know-how to minimize costs, upgrade production yield rate to strengthen the Company's competitive edge on a long-term basis.
- (C) With continued efforts, we put forth maximum possible efforts to cultivate marketing talents. Pursuant to the trend of global economic development, we set up very sound marketing information system to, in turn, dominate changes in the market and the very pulsation of product development.
- (D) Adhering to the philosophy of "innovating technology to better serve customers," we look at the world market to achieve the goal of sustainable business operation.
- (E) Here at the Company, we look for more potential customer groups in the markets and require the R&D Department and relevant departments to cooperate in full to accelerate the development pace of new products. In turn, we become able to get ahead to win the markets.

II. An overview into market and production and sales performance

2. Market share

The methods for digital television signal transmission can be divided into satellite, terrestrial broadcasting, cable television and broadband network. In terms of set-top box shipment volume, the proportion of digital signals transmitted through satellite is relatively higher. While satellite television was developed earlier and has been promoted with wholehearted efforts, the number of set-top box users has been growing at a very rapid pace. Where the satellite television industry has gradually entered a mature phase, it is estimated that the growth momentum of set-top boxes would gradually slow down. In turn, in the days and years ahead, digital television will have strong growth momentum to grow with the terrestrial broadcasting and IPTV. In terms of product functions, the shipments of the target products toward the emerging markets are still dominated by SD models. Where the proportion of product shipments containing CA has increased significantly under the sound promotion of service providers, the proportion of HD models shipped into Europe has gradually increased as well. Besides this, MPEG 4 is adopted and the proportion of audiovisual compression formats has increased significantly. It is expected that in the future, DBS products will be developed towards CA lock code, MPEG 4 compression and HD image quality.

3. The future supply and demand situation and growth in the target markets

- (1) U.S. standard high-definition digital terrestrial broadcast receivers
 - A. STB became a fairly mature product since the era of analog signals. It has, nevertheless, only been responsible for channel selection and decoding in the past time and began to develop various interactive services in the digital era. The functionality and value of such products have been greatly enhanced.
 - B. Amidst the continued expansion of global digital television broadcast signals and the strengthening of interactive services, the market growth opportunities are still worth looking forward to.

(2) Satellite Low Noise Down converter (LNB)

Among the wireless transmission equipment, there include two major categories of satellite communication systems and terrestrial microwave systems. The satellite television receiving equipment is primarily used to receive satellite television programs. At present, there is a strong demand for satellite live television throughout the world. North America is the world's top markets for digital cable and satellite. The television market in Western Europe is the second major market. With the launch of satellite digital broadcasting services in other regions, Asia, which houses more than half of the earth's population, is also driven by the rapid development of the Asian economy and the successive launch of digital television satellites amidst the hot development of satellite live broadcasting. The very growth of the LNB market is virtually driven by the diversification of satellite communication applications and the opening of the market. For instance, in early days, it focused on voice and video images. Today, nevertheless, it seeks to improve data communication. Besides this, communication service providers promote the application of multiple receiving points. Driven by such rising regional demand, the market for LNB will be continually driven upward.

(3) Wired television system

Since the Cable Television Act came into being in Taiwan, the cable television user rate has skyrocketed from less than 20% to more than 80% within just five years. With the technological revolution driven by the information industry in recent years, the traditional service providers of cable television entertainment programs have become unlimited. The diversified choices would include the broadcasting of digital television programs, surfing the Internet, interactive television, personal digital video recorders/players as well as on-demand video among many others. Further coupled with the vigorous development of global direct broadcast satellites, the growth of the wired television system in the traditional entertainment television program service users would be virtually limited. Where in Taiwan, the penetration rate of cable television has at the present time jumped to more than 80% and the growth space is relatively narrow. When the number of users would no longer be growing, relative revenue growth would naturally stagnate. The cable television service providers should urgently need to develop new service projects before they can increase revenue.

Taking the development experience in the United States as an example, the end terminal of their information superhighway is simply achieved through the wired television networks. Accordingly, the wired television shall play a very key role in the multimedia amidst "two-way" communication in the future. Other than the head-end equipment, the U.S. cable television service providers are also very vigorous in the construction of the user loops. The products deriving from them, e.g. online amplifiers and network remote monitors, have created extraordinary market output values. In terms of the global markets, there would be more than 10,000 cable television headend playback systems. Where each system is estimated to be coupled with 5,000 amplifiers, with the improvement of broadband and two-way functions, the demand for updates and new installations would hit as astonishingly as more than 50 million. Amidst the cutthroat market competition driving the research and development of new products and technologies, the future wired television will inevitably combine the functions of telecommunications, computer industry and fire prevention and anti-theft, bringing huge business opportunities to the industry in the days and years ahead.

As far as the Company's product lines are concerned, other than traditional wired television products, such as amplifiers, strong waves and splitters, in recent years, our Company has been vigorously investing huge amounts into the research and development and production of up-to-date products e.g. digital video converters. Our Company focuses on not only old products, but further actively teams up with international manufacturers in the hope to grasp product streams and trends and takes the lead in the international community among the industry as the very welcome partner to those international manufacturers.

(4) Satellite oriented small ground station (VSAT)

What does VSAT (Very Small Aperture Terminal) mean? VSAT is known as a small satellite ground station and is also known as a commercial private small satellite communication system which primarily uses a satellite signal transceiver system to establish a private local area network or satellite communication network within the enterprises to transmit sound, image, data and such information.

In daily rounds, VSAT has been used in business fields for quite a period of time. In news coverage, for instance, SNG (Satellite News Gathering), which is often used in television news interviews, is a typical type of VSAT application. It is easy to install and would take only 20 minutes. It is very well oriented to interview needs that are highly mobile and would call for timely transmission of data. Besides this, for developing countries with huge geographical territories and scattered populations in rural areas, VSAT has also successfully established telecommunications networks.

At the present time, the global VSAT markets are subject to a slow growth trend. Other than the increasing demand for multiple types of timely data transmission by enterprises, on the supply side, the factors that virtually drive the popularization of VSAT include notably:

- 1. "Shared hub" solution.
- 2. Drop in equipment prices.
- 3. The size of the dish antenna is reduced, the transmission speed is increased and the power is significantly boosted.

In the United States as early as 1987, they made use of VSAT to manage security work. Later, the government, enterprises and schools also adopted VSAT into an application for data transmission. Along with the advancement technologically, the current application range of VSAT is becoming increasingly extensive, notably: Retail store POS, news and financial information transmission, environment and pipeline monitoring data transmission, online lottery coupons, remote teaching, high-speed multimedia data transmission, Internet, even including the voice data transmission, and the like as well as the relevant applications.

Where VSAT virtually replaces terrestrial wired networks, it can be used for voice and data transmission in rural areas, outlying offshore islands and remote areas. It will effectively minimize the communication cost in the aforementioned areas. Where the relevant equipment is relatively too expensive, nevertheless, at the moment only those mega-multinational giants and government agencies can effort to. Nevertheless, VSAT will develop toward the direction of USAT (Ultra Small Aperture Terminal) and the prices of equipment are expected to come down significantly. By that time, those small and medium enterprises and even common individuals will be able to afford to it. This suggests a certain business opportunity for VSAT before too long in the future.

(5) Digital video converter markets

Digital video converters are expected to grow at a very rapid pace before too long in the future as digital video programs are successively launched in various countries around the world. Overall, digital television is significantly superior to the traditional analog television transmission method in terms of picture quality, sound quality, bandwidth efficiency, security, and service functions provided therewith. In recent years, as a result, governments in various countries have listed the digitalization of television as the very goal of their future policy.

Among all sorts of digital video converters, with the early development of digital direct dial satellite (DST), the number of users is far ahead of the other two network systems. Digital cable television (DCT) follows DST with the number of users ranking straight behind as second. Digital terrestrial broadcasting is currently in the circumstance that governments around the world have stopped broadcasting analog signals progressively in succession and the chance for future growth is also quite promising.

- 4. Advantageous and disadvantageous factors of competitive niches and development prospects and the countermeasures
 - (1) Competitive niche
 - (a) The effort to maintain a sound cooperative tie with customers. Here at the Company, our business marketing teammates provide customers with complete product development services. Amidst all such regards including notably quality, yield rate, delivery time and after-sales service, our teammates maintain a very sound tacit accord with customers and help customers minimize product development schedules. We are growing together hand-in-hand with customers and maintaining long-term cooperative relationships, establishing marketing channels with deep-rooted customer relationships. All these factors are conducive to our Company's future operational development.
 - (b) Superior research & development technical capabilities, innovation and dedication are the very foundation of our Company's development. Coupled with long-term training of research & development talents, our Company has accumulated quite deep technology and hands-on experience. This is the core technology that our Company relies on for competition and is also the Company's new momentum of growth.
 - (c) With high-end products and rapid research and development capabilities, our Company can provide customers with the fastest possible service and delivery within the shortest possible period of time.
 - (d) We strive to cooperate with MSO/Telco/Operator/head-end/satellite industry players to promote new technologies and ODM/OEM opportunities.
 - (2) Advantageous and disadvantageous factors toward our prospective development and the countermeasures
 - A. Advantageous factors
 - (a) Our Company possesses digital and analog image processing technology and transmission technology capabilities.
 - (b) Our Company possesses, as well research & development, production, and sales integration capabilities and is in a position to integrate production and sales with adjustment in real time production and product design according to market conditions.
 - (c) The development of global digital television broadcasting has virtually stimulated the digitization of televisions. As a natural result, the market demand for digital television receivers has grown by leaps and bounds.
 - (d) Lots of digital television receiver system chips will become more highly integrated, enabling receiver manufacturers to produce more powerful and lower cost digital high-resolution television receivers.
 - B. Disadvantageous factors
 - (a) Many television or display manufacturers intend to develop and design their own digital television receivers.
 - (b) The supply of system chips is subject to restriction by foreign manufacturers. Whenever the supply of chip production capacity is tight, the cost required to acquire chips would become higher and it would take a longer period of time to deliver the chips.
 - (c) Fierce competitors coming from mainland China tend to use low-price strategies into vicious and cutthroat competition. Competitors from South Korea are more

- technologically advanced and tend to compete at low prices with government export subsidies.
- (d) Still inadequate workforce in the research & development teams.
- (e) Too lengthy period of time required for product certification.

C. Countermeasures

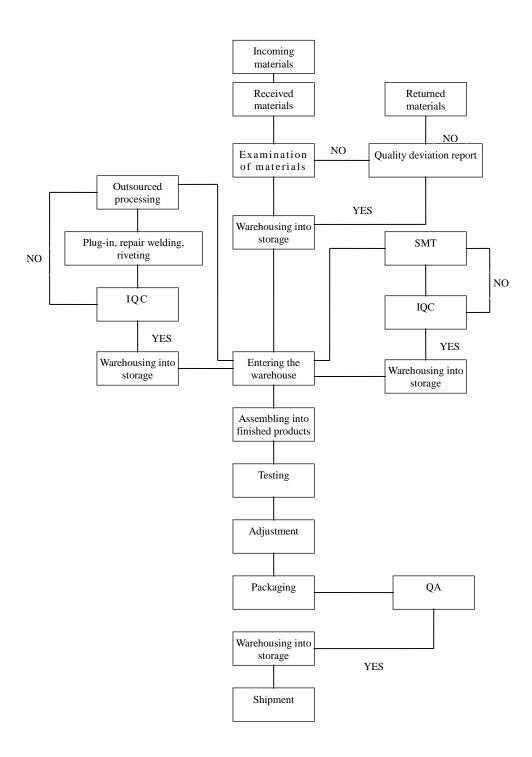

- (a) The effort to cut short the time required for product development and certification so as to win the opportunities in the markets.
- (b) The effort to enhance own capability to map out products with advanced research & development to cut short the period of time required launch new products.
- (c) To streamline product design, reduce materials to be used for the products, minimize material manufacturing costs and eventually upgrade quality of the products.
- (d) To strengthen marketing management, establish a global marketing network and a sound after-sales service system to satisfy customer needs.
- (e) The efforts to recruit talents through campuses with thorough implementation of educational & training programs, to improve employee welfare to strengthen employee centripetal cohesion and reduce turnover rate and further enhance the development strength of R&D talents.
- (f) To formulate a closer strategic alliance with digital television receiver chip design suppliers to team up with them to jointly develop new chip platform. The Company can play an OEM role for software and hardware as designated by chip designers.

(II) The important purposes of use and production process of major products The important purposes of use of major products

| Products | The important purposes of use |
|--------------------------------------|--|
| Amplifiers | In the process of signal transmission with the signal loss caused by fixed linear loss, good amplifiers need to be adopted to compensate for such loss so as to maintain a sound signal quality. |
| Signal tapeout | The signal tapeout terminal is a sort of radio frequency signal divider buried inside the wall separating the signal from the user cable into the television frequency band, the FM/AM frequency band, the satellite intermediate frequency band and the digital signal frequency band, and the like so that the user terminal can directly and promptly connect the signal to each interface platform. |
| Distributers, splitters | A sound signal quality needs to be transmitted to thousands upon thousands of users and the design of the distribution system is to effectively process and distribute these signals in a complete manner so that users can enjoy high-quality video signals. |
| Low noise down converters | Receptions of high-quality satellite television programs |
| Multiple switches | The main function of the multiple switches used in the satellite television smart distribution system is primarily intended to connect more than one satellite receiver and antenna through this system to integrate signals from various sources and then, in turn, distribute them toward several households. |
| (DSR) | With the use of an antenna (dubbed as an ear) to reflect to the low noise down converters (LNB), the low noise down converters (LNB) collect the high-frequency digital compressed video received from the satellite. Then it converts the signal to a radio frequency signal and then sends it to DSR/IRD decoding and, in turn, analyzes the digital compressed signal and converts it into an analog video for presentation on the television screen. |
| Multimedia video receivers IP STB | The interactive network television platform, through the video receivers and broadband networks, allows the existent television channels and network channels to be combined among each other. The consumers can enjoy more diversified information on stocks, entertainment, shopping, financial and lifestyle with only a convenient operation interface. |

| High-definition digital television receivers | Primarily to process the high-definition digital television signal of the digital television system, and such signal conversion would provide high-quality audio and video output for analog or high-fidelity television. Besides this, it also provides a variety of audio and video input and output interfaces to provide audio and video Quality output and input conversion. |
|--|---|
| Power line network bridge-PLC | To integrate 802.11ax wireless network specification powerline network bridge, the network transmission rate is up to 2Gbps which can be used to connect to the modem and router personal computer, digital set-top box or games console where a user can share high-definition movies through the existing power lines in the house. Where the built-in 802.11ax wireless network access technology also allows users to enjoy mobility, high-speed wireless network connection and better coverage. |

2. Production process of the major products

Toward suppliers, the Company conducts an overall evaluation on their quality, lead time, technology, costs and such capabilities on a regular basis, over the parts & components The Company decentralizes the supply sources. Through such policies, the Company successfully assures stable supply sources with supply volume the coordination degrees well satisfactory to the Company's expectation and development.

V. Labor-Management Relationship

- (I) Here at the Company, performance and implementation of fringe benefits for employees' refresher educational & training programs, training programs, retirement system, accords by and between labor and management, and measures to safeguard fringe benefits for employees
 - A: Toward fringe benefits for employees:

Exactly in accordance with the Labor Standards Act, the Company faithfully rendered fringe benefits for employees and retirement system on the grounds of the rules so enacted. Further in June 1990, we duly established the Welfare Committee (Fringe Benefit Committee) which convenes meeting on a regular basis. The minutes of the meeting so convened have been submitted to the competent authority for information. Further in December 1986, we set up Labor Pension Reserve Fund Supervisor Board to oversee the amount appropriated for reserve of labor pension, deposit and expenditure and payment affairs to firmly safeguard employees' interests. The welfare benefits granted so far include:

- (1) Sound and integrated retirement system.
- (2) All-out employees participate in labor insurance, accident insurance and travel insurance

- (3) Congratulation and condolence allowances are granted to employees when they are married, give birth, are hospitalized, or pass away.
- (4) The Company has set up staff restaurant(s) providing the entire staff with meals.
- (5) The Company provides very sound training programs to satisfy employees amidst their need to grow to help the Company cultivate high-caliber talents.
- (6) Elaborately designed birthday gifts, employee travel allowances and self-improvement activities.
- (7) Employees having served for one year in full are granted with special leave with additional more day(s) along with added service seniority.
- B: Refresher educational & training programs toward employees

In an attempt to cultivate the work skills for employees, the Company refines their own learning skills and enhances their know-how.

So as to effectively achieve human resource development, encourage all employees into improvement of their personal qualities through sound education and training.

To enhance their working skills, improve teamwork spirit for which the Company has duly enacted "Regulations Governing Educational & Training Programs toward Employees"

Please explain the reasons for the changes in financial ratios in the last two years. (If the increase or decrease is less than 20%, the analysis may be exempted)

- (1) Increase in quick ratio: Due to the continuous control over inventory level this year resulting in the decreases in both inventory and accounts payable from the previous year.
- (2) Increase in times interest earned: Due to that the rate of increase in net loss of the year is less than the rate of increase in interest expense resulting in a decline in the ratio.
- (3) Decreases in profitability indicators: Due to the net loss of the year.
- (4) Increases in cash flow ratio, cash flow adequacy ratio and cash reinvestment ratio: Mainly due to the increase in cash inflow from operating activities this year.
- (5) Decrease in operating leverage: Mainly due to the decreases in operating revenue, costs and expenses resulting in a decline in operating loss.

Note 1: The aforementioned financial data of 2019–2023 have been duly audited by the certified public accountants.

Note 2: The first quarter, 2024 financial statement has been audited by the certified public accountants.

Please explain the reasons for the changes in financial ratios in the last two years.(If the increase or decrease is less than 20%, the analysis may be exempted)

- (1) Decrease in times interest earned: Due to the continuous control over inventory level this year resulting in the decreases in both inventory and accounts payable from the previous year.
- (2) Decrease in inventory turnover and increase in average days in sales: Mainly due to the declines in both operating revenue and costs from the previous year.
- (3) Decreases in profitability indicators: Due to the net loss of the year.
- (4) Increases in cash flow indicators: Mainly due to the increase in cash inflow from operating activities this year.
- (5) Increase in operating leverage: Mainly due to the decreases in variable operating costs and expenses.

Note 1: The aforementioned financial data of 2019–2023 have been duly audited by the certified public accountants.

1. Financial structure

- (1) Percentage of liabilities to assets = Total liabilities/Total assets.
- (2) Percentage of long-term assets to real property, plants & equipment = (Total equity + Long-term liabilities) / Real property, plants & equipment in net amount.

2. Solvency

- (1) Current ratio = Current assets/Current liabilities.
- (2) Quick ratio = (Current assets-Inventory-Expenses paid in advance)/Current liabilities.
- (3) Interest coverage ratio = Net profit before income tax and interest expense/Interest expense for the current period.

3. Management capability

- (1) Receivables (including accounts receivable and the notes receivable incurred by business operation) turnover rate = Net sales amount/The average amount of receivables in each term (Including accounts receivable and notes receivable incurred in business operation) in balance.
- (2) Number of days of average cash collection = 365/Turnover rate of accounts receivable.
- (3) Inventory turnover rate = Sales costs/Average inventory amount.
- (4) Amounts payable (Including accounts payable and notes payable as incurred for business operation) turnover rate = Sales costs/Amounts payable (Including accounts payable and notes payable as incurred for business operation averages in various terms) as the balance.
- (5) Number of days in average sales = 365/Inventory turnover rate.
- (6) Turnover rate of real property, plants & equipment (times) = Net sales amount/ Net Average amount of real property, plants & equipment
- (7) Total asset turnover rate = Net sales amount/ Total average assets.

4. Profitability

- (1) Return rate on assets= (Profit and/or loss after tax+Interest expense × (1-Tax rate))/ Total average assets.
- (2) Return rate on equity = Profit and/or loss after tax/Average total equity.
- (3) Net profitability = Profit and/or loss after tax/Net sales amount.
- (4) Earnings per share (EPS) = (Profit and/or loss attributed to parent's proprietor Preferred shares dividend)/Weighted average number of shares issued. (Note 4)

5. Cash flow

- (1) Cash flow ratio = Cash flow in operating activities/Current liabilities.
- (2) Net cash flow appropriate ratio = Cash flow in operating activities over the past five (5) years/The (capital expenditure + increase in inventory + Cash dividend) of the past five (5) years.
- (3) Cash reinvestment ratio = (Cash flow in operating activities-Cash dividend)/(Gross amount of real property, plants & equipment + Long-term investment + Other non-current assets + Operating funds). (Note 5)

- 6. Degree of operating leverage:
 - (1) Degree of operating leverage = (Operating revenues, net amount-Variable operating costs and expenses)/Operating profit (Note 6).
 - (2) Degree of financial leverage = Operating profit/(Operating profit-Interest expense).
- Note 4: On the aforementioned mentioned calculation formula for earnings per share (EPS), the key points for attention as enumerated below should take into serious account upon measurement:
 - 1. Based on the number of common shares in weighted average instead of taking the number of outstanding shares as of the end of the year.
 - 2. In case of capital increase through cash injection or trading with treasury shares, upon calculation of the annual earnings per share (EPS), should call for retrospective adjustment based on the ratio of capital increase without consideration of the period of issuance for the part of capital increase
 - 3. Whenever the earnings are converted into capital increase or capital reserve is converted into capital increase, upon counting the previous annual or semiannual earnings per share (EPS), it should be retrospectively adjusted pro rata without taking into account the period of issuance in the capital increase
 - 4. In the event that the preferred shares are accumulated preferred shares which could not be converted, the dividend in that year (disregarding whether the dividend is granted) shall be deducted out of the net profit after tax or should be taken to increase the net loss after tax. Where the preferred shares are not accumulated in attribute, in a state of net profit after tax, the preferred shares dividend should be deducted out of the net profit after tax. In case of a loss, it calls for adjustment.
- Note 5: Upon analysis and measurement of cash flow, the following issues should be particularly watched:
 - 1. The term cash flow in operating activities refers to the cash inflow amount in the operating activities in the Table of Cash Flow.
 - 2. The term capital expenditure refers to the amount of cash outflow amidst the capital investment every year.
 - 3. The increase in inventory is counted only at the end of a term while the ending balance is greater than beginning balance. When the inventory decreases at end of the year, it is counted at zero.
 - 4. Cash dividend includes cash dividend. of common shares and preferred shares.
 - 5. Gross amount of real property, plants & equipment refers to the total amount of the real property, plants & equipment after deducting the accumulated depreciation.
- Note 6: An issuer shall duly classify various operating costs and operating expenses in the attributes as fixed and variable ones. Where such involve estimation or subjective judgments, such issuer shall, at his or her discretion, watch the rationality and maintain consistent.

Note 7: In case of aforementioned percentage to the paid-in capital of a foreign company, it shall be counted as percentage to the net worth instead.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT TRANSLATED FROM CHINESE

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Zinwell Corporation

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Zinwell Corporation and its subsidiaries (the "Group") as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, and the related consolidated statements of comprehensive income, of changes in equity and of cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and the International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC Interpretations, and SIC Interpretations that came into effect as endorsed by the Financial Supervisory Commission.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Financial Statement Audit and Attestation Engagements of Certified Public Accountants and Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountants of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements for 2023. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole and, in forming our opinion thereon, we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters for the Group's consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2023 are stated as follows:

Valuation of inventory

Description

For the accounting policies of inventory, please refer to Note 4(13); and for the accounting estimates and assumption uncertainty of inventory, please refer to Note 5. For details of the allowance for inventory valuation losses, please refer to Note 6(5).

The Group is mainly engaged in sales of digital cable and communication products. Due to rapid technological innovation, the short lifecycle of electronic products and intense competition in the market, there is a higher risk of inventory losses due to market value decline or obsolesence. Since the valuation of obsolete and slow-moving inventory is subject to the management's judgement, we consider valuation of inventory as a key audit matter.

How our audit addressed the matter

We performed the following audit procedures in respect of the above key audit matter:

- 1. Assessed the reasonableness of accounting policies and procedures in relation to inventory valuation, including the classification of aged, damaged and obsolete inventory.
- 2. Reviewed the Group's annual counting plan and conducted their physical counts on inventories to evaluate the control effectiveness on inventory classification.
- 3. Validated the inventory classification and the amount of net realisable value, including to obtain net realisable value reports of inventory, assess the computational logic of the system report, test related supporting documents, recalculate the loss of inventory and further evaluate the rationality.

Impairment assessment of accounts receivable

Description

For the accounting policies of accounting receivable, please refer to Note 4(9); and for the accounting estimates and assumptions uncertainty of impairment on accounts receivable, please refer to Note 5. For details of impairment on accounts receivable, please refer to Note 6(4).

The Group assessed the credit risk of accounts receivable under many factors, such as customers' financial position, internal rating criteria and historical transaction data. The management evaluated their expected credit impairment loss based on the result of the assessment. Since the above assessment is subjected to management's judgement, and accounts receivable and its valuation is significant to the consolidated financial statements, we consider impairment assessment of accounts receivable as a key audit matter.

How our audit addressed the matter

We performed the following audit procedures in respect of the above key audit matter:

- 1. Obtained an understanding of and tested the management procedures over credit risk of the Group, including the assessment and management of the credit limits of customers and the assessment process of the expected credit impairment losses.
- 2. Regarding significant amount of overdue accounts receivable, investigated the reason for non-collection or tested the collection after balance sheet date.

Other matter – Parent company only financial reports

We have audited and expressed an unqualified opinion on the parent company only financial statements of Zinwell Corporation as at and for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022.

Responsibilities of management and those charged with governance for the consolidated financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and the International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC Interpretations, and SIC Interpretations that came into effect as endorsed by the Financial Supervisory Commission, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- 1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- 2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- 3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- 4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

- 5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- 6. Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

| Amendments to IAS 21, 'Lack of exchangeability' | January 1, 2025 |

The above standards and interpretations have no significant impact to the Group's financial condition and financial performance based on the Group's assessment.

4. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these consolidated financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the periods presented, unless otherwise stated.

(1) Compliance statement

The consolidated financial statements of the Group have been prepared in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC® Interpretations, and SIC® Interpretations that came into effect as endorsed by the FSC (collectively referred herein as the "IFRSs").

(2) Basis of preparation

- A. Except for the following items, the consolidated financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention:
 - (a) Financial assets and liabilities at fair value through other comprehensive income.
 - (b) Defined benefit liabilities recognised based on the net amount of pension fund assets less present value of defined benefit obligation.

B. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRSs requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the consolidated financial statements are disclosed in Note 5.

(3) Basis of consolidation

- A. Basis for preparation of consolidated financial statements:
 - (a) All subsidiaries are included in the Group's consolidated financial statements. Subsidiaries are all entities (including structured entities) controlled by the Group. The Group controls an entity when the Group is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. Consolidation of subsidiaries begins from the date the Group obtains control of the subsidiaries and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiaries.
 - (b) Inter-company transactions, balances and unrealised gains or losses on transactions between companies within the Group are eliminated. Accounting policies of subsidiaries have been adjusted where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.
 - (c) Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the parent and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income is attributed to the owners of the parent and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.
 - (d) Changes in a parent's ownership interest in a subsidiary that do not result in the parent losing control of the subsidiary (transactions with non-controlling interests) are accounted for as equity transactions, i.e. transactions with owners in their capacity as owners. Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interests are adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognised directly in equity.
 - (e) When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, the Group remeasures any investment retained in the former subsidiary at its fair value. That fair value is regarded as the fair value on initial recognition of a financial asset or the cost on initial recognition of the associate or joint venture. Any difference between fair value and carrying amount is recognised in profit or loss. All amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to the subsidiary are reclassified to profit or loss on the same basis as would be required if the related assets or liabilities were disposed of. That is, when the Group loses control of a subsidiary, all gains or losses previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to the subsidiary should be reclassified from equity to profit or loss, if such gains or losses would be reclassified to profit or loss when the related assets or liabilities are disposed of.

B. Subsidiaries included in the consolidated financial statements:

- Note 1: Because the Group can control the finance, operations and personnel policies of AkiraNET Co., under IAS 10 'Consolidated Financial Statements', AkiraNET Co. is considered as a subsidiary and is included in the consolidated financial statements.
- Note 2: On July 27, 2023, the Board of Directors of the consolidated subsidiary, AkiraNET Co., resolved to increase its cash capital with the effective date set on August 25, 2023. As the Company acquired 22,581 thousand shares in the amount of $225,809 by cash, and the shareholding ratio increased to 54.40%, please refer to Note 6(26) for details.
- C. Subsidiaries not included in the consolidated financial statements: None.
- D. Adjustments for subsidiaries with different balance sheet dates: None.
- E. Significant restrictions: None.
- F. Subsidiaries that have non-controlling interests that are material to the Group: None.

(4) Foreign currency translation

Items included in the financial statements of each of the Group's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates (the "functional currency"). The consolidated financial statements are presented in New Taiwan Dollars, which is the Company's functional and the Group's presentation currency.

A. Foreign currency transactions and balances

(a) Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions or valuation where items are remeasured. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

- (b) Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the period end are re-translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date. Exchange differences arising upon re-translation at the balance sheet date are recognised in profit or loss.
- (c) Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies held at fair value through profit or loss are re-translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date; their translation differences are recognised in profit or loss. Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies held at fair value through other comprehensive income are re-translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date; their translation differences are recognised in other comprehensive income. However, non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies that are not measured at fair value are translated using the historical exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions.
- (d) All other foreign exchange gains and losses based on the nature of those transactions are presented in the statement of comprehensive income within 'other gains and losses'.

B. Translation of foreign operations

- (a) The operating results and financial position of all the group entities, associates and joint arrangements that have a functional currency different from the presentation currency are translated into the presentation currency as follows:
 - i. Assets and liabilities for each balance sheet presented are translated at the closing exchange rate at the date of that balance sheet;
 - ii. Income and expenses for each statement of comprehensive income are translated at average exchange rates of that period; and
 - iii. All resulting exchange differences are recognised in other comprehensive income.
- (b)When the foreign operation partially disposed of or sold is a subsidiary, cumulative exchange differences that were recorded in other comprehensive income are proportionately transferred to the non-controlling interest in this foreign operation. In addition, even when the Group still retains partial interest in the former foreign subsidiary after losing control of the former foreign subsidiary, such transactions should be accounted for as disposal of all interest in the foreign operation.

(5) Classification of current and non-current items

- A. Assets that meet one of the following criteria are classified as current assets; otherwise they are classified as non-current assets:
 - (a) Assets arising from operating activities that are expected to be realised, or are intended to be sold or consumed within the normal operating cycle;
 - (b) Assets held mainly for trading purposes;
 - (c) Assets that are expected to be realised within twelve months from the balance sheet date;
 - (d) Cash and cash equivalents, excluding restricted cash and cash equivalents and those that are to be exchanged or used to pay off liabilities more than twelve months after the balance sheet date.
- B. Liabilities that meet one of the following criteria are classified as current liabilities; otherwise they are classified as non-current liabilities:
 - (a) Liabilities that are expected to be settled within the normal operating cycle;
 - (b) Liabilities arising mainly from trading activities;

- (c) Liabilities that are to be settled within twelve months from the balance sheet date;
- (d) Liabilities for which the repayment date cannot be extended unconditionally to more than twelve months after the balance sheet date. Terms of a liability that could, at the option of the counterparty, result in its settlement by the issue of equity instruments do not affect its classification.

(6) Cash equivalents

Cash equivalents refer to short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. Time deposits that meet the definition above and are held for the purpose of meeting short-term cash commitments in operations (including time deposits with contract period less than 3 months) are classified as cash equivalents.

(7) Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income

- A. Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income comprise equity securities which are not held for trading, and for which the Group has made an irrevocable election at initial recognition to recognise changes in fair value in other comprehensive income.
- B. On a regular way purchase or sale basis, financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive are recognised and derecognised using trade date accounting.
- C. At initial recognition, the Group measures the financial assets at fair value plus transaction costs. The Group subsequently measures the financial assets at fair value. The changes in fair value of equity investments that were recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to retained earnings and are not reclassified to profit or loss following the derecognition of the investment. Dividends are recognised as revenue when the right to receive payment is established, future economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Group and the amount of the dividend can be measured reliably.

(8) Financial assets at amortised cost

- A. Financial assets at amortised cost are those that meet all of the following criteria:
 - (a) The objective of the Group's business model is achieved by collecting contractual cash flows.
 - (b) The assets' contractual cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest.
- B. On a regular way purchase or sale basis, financial assets at amortised cost are recognised and derecognised using trade date accounting.
- C. At initial recognition, the Group measures the financial assets at fair value plus transaction costs. Interest income from these financial assets is included in finance income using the effective interest method. A gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised or impaired.
- D. The Group's time deposits which do not fall under cash equivalents are those with a short maturity period and are measured at initial investment amount as the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(9) Accounts and notes receivable

- A. Accounts and notes receivable entitle the Group a legal right to receive consideration in exchange for transferred goods or rendered services.
- B. The short-term accounts and notes receivable without bearing interest are subsequently measured at initial invoice amount as the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(10) Impairment of financial assets

For debt instruments measured financial assets at amortised cost, at each reporting date, the Group recognises the impairment provision for 12 months expected credit losses if there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition or recognises the impairment provision for the lifetime expected credit losses (ECLs) if such credit risk has increased since initial recognition after taking into consideration all reasonable and verifiable information that includes forecasts. On the other hand, for accounts receivable that do not contain a significant financing component, the Group recognises the impairment provision for lifetime ECLs.

(11) Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to receive the cash flows from the financial asset expire.

(12) Leasing arrangements (lessor) – operating leases

Lease income from an operating lease (net of any incentives given to the lessee) is recognised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

(13) Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined using the weighted-average method. The cost of finished goods and work in progress comprises raw materials, direct labour, other direct costs and related production overheads (allocated based on normal operating capacity). It excludes borrowing costs. The item by item approach is used in applying the lower of cost and net realisable value. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated cost of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

(14) Investments accounted for using equity method / associates

- A. Associates are all entities over which the Group has significant influence but not control. In general, it is presumed that the investor has significant influence, if an investor holds, directly or indirectly 20 percent or more of the voting power of the investee. Investments in associates are accounted for using the equity method and are initially recognised at cost.
- B. The Group's share of its associates' post-acquisition profits or losses is recognised in profit or loss, and its share of post-acquisition movements in other comprehensive income is recognised in other comprehensive income. When the Group's share of losses in an associate equals or exceeds its interest in the associate, including any other unsecured receivables, the Group does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate.
- C. When changes in an associate's equity that are not recognised in profit or loss or other comprehensive income of the associate and such changes not affecting the Group's ownership percentage of the associate, the Group recognises change in ownership interests in the associate in 'capital surplus' in proportion to its ownership.
- D. Unrealised gains on transactions between the Group and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interest in the associates. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. Accounting policies of associates have been adjusted where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.
- E. In the case that an associate issues new shares and the Group does not subscribe or acquire new shares proportionately, which results in a change in the Group's ownership percentage of the associate but maintains significant influence on the associate, then 'capital surplus' and 'investments accounted for under the equity method' shall be adjusted for the increase or decrease of its share of equity interest. If the above condition causes a decrease in the Group's ownership percentage of the associate, in addition to the above adjustment, the amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to the associate are reclassified to profit or loss proportionately on the same basis as would be required if the relevant assets or liabilities were disposed of.

F. When the Group disposes its investment in an associate, if it loses significant influence over this associate, the amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to the associate, are reclassified to profit or loss, on the same basis as would be required if the relevant assets or liabilities were disposed of. If it still retains significant influence over this associate, then the amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to the associate are reclassified to profit or loss proportionately in accordance with the aforementioned approach.

(15) Property, plant and equipment

- A. Property, plant and equipment are initially recorded at cost. Borrowing costs incurred during the construction period are capitalised.
- B. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to profit or loss during the financial period in which they are incurred.
- C. Land is not depreciated. Other property, plant and equipment apply cost model and are depreciated using the straight-line method to allocate their cost over their estimated useful lives. Each part of an item of property, plant and equipment with a cost that is significant in relation to the total cost of the item must be depreciated separately.
- D. The assets' residual values, useful lives and depreciation methods are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at each financial year-end. If expectations for the assets' residual values and useful lives differ from previous estimates or the patterns of consumption of the assets' future economic benefits embodied in the assets have changed significantly, any change is accounted for as a change in estimate under IAS 8, 'Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors', from the date of the change. The estimated useful lives of property, plant and equipment are as follows:

Buildings and structures $5\sim55$ yearsMachinery and equipment $2\sim10$ yearsResearch and development equipment $2\sim8$ yearsOffice equipment $3\sim8$ yearsMiscellaneous equipment $3\sim10$ years

(16) Leasing arrangements (lessee)—right-of-use assets / lease liabilities

- A. Leases are recognised as a right-of-use asset and a corresponding lease liability at the date at which the leased asset is available for use by the Group. For short-term leases or leases of low-value assets, lease payments are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.
- B. Lease liabilities include the net present value of the remaining lease payments at the commencement date, discounted using the incremental borrowing interest rate. Lease payments are comprised of the fixed payments, less any lease incentives receivable.
 - The Group subsequently measures the lease liability at amortised cost using the interest method and recognises interest expense over the lease term. The lease liability is remeasured and the amount of remeasurement is recognised as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset when there are changes in the lease term or lease payments and such changes do not arise from contract modifications.
- C. At the commencement date, the right-of-use asset is stated at cost which was the amount of the initial measurement of lease liability.

The right-of-use asset is measured subsequently using the cost model and is depreciated from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the asset's useful life or the end of the lease term. When the lease liability is remeasured, the amount of remeasurement is recognised as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset.

D. For lease modifications that decrease the scope of the lease, the lessee shall decrease the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset to reflect the partial or full termination of the lease, and recognise the difference between remeasured lease liability in profit or loss.

(17) Investment property

An investment property is stated initially at its cost and measured subsequently using the cost model. Except for land, investment property is depreciated on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life of $40\sim55$ years.

(18) Intangible assets

A. Computer software

Computer software is stated at cost and amortised on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life of $1\sim 6$ years.

B. Intellectual property

Intellectual property is stated at cost and amortised on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life of 5 years.

(19) Impairment of non-financial assets

The Group assesses at each balance sheet date the recoverable amounts of those assets where there is an indication that they are impaired. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell or value in use. Except for goodwill, when the circumstances or reasons for recognising impairment loss for an asset in prior years no longer exist or diminish, the impairment loss is reversed. The increased carrying amount due to reversal should not be more than what the depreciated or amortised historical cost would have been if the impairment had not been recognised.

(20) Borrowings

Borrowings comprise long-term and short-term bank borrowings. Borrowings are recognised initially at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred. Borrowings are subsequently stated at amortised cost; any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is recognised in profit or loss over the period of the borrowings using the effective interest method.

(21) Accounts and notes payable

- A. Accounts payable are liabilities for purchases of raw materials, goods or services and notes payable are those resulting from operating and non-operating activities.
- B. The short-term accounts and notes payable without bearing interest are subsequently measured at initial invoice amount as the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(22) Derecognition of financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability specified in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expires.

(23) Offsetting financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and reported in the net amount in the balance sheet when there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis or realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

(24) Employee benefits

A. Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in respect of service rendered by employees in a period and should be recognised as expenses in that period when the employees render service.

B. Pensions

(a) Defined contribution plans

For defined contribution plans, the contributions are recognised as pension expenses when they are due on an accrual basis. Prepaid contributions are recognised as an asset to the extent of a cash refund or a reduction in the future payments.

(b) Defined benefit plans

- i. Net obligation under a defined benefit plan is defined as the present value of an amount of pension benefits that employees will receive on retirement for their services with the Group in current period or prior periods. The liability recognised in the balance sheet in respect of defined benefit pension plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the balance sheet date less the fair value of plan assets. The defined benefit net obligation is calculated annually by independent actuaries using the projected unit credit method. The rate used to discount is determined by using interest rates of government bonds (at the balance sheet date) of a currency and term consistent with the currency and term of the employment benefit obligations.
- ii. Remeasurement arising on defined benefit plans are recognised in other comprehensive income in the period in which they arise and are recorded as retained earnings.

C. Termination benefits

Termination benefits are employee benefits provided in exchange for the termination of employment as a result from either the Group's decision to terminate an employee's employment before the normal retirement date, or an employee's decision to accept an offer of redundancy benefits in exchange for the termination of employment. The Group recognises expense as it can no longer withdraw an offer of termination benefits or it recognises relating restructuring costs, whichever is earlier. Benefits that are expected to be due more than 12 months after balance sheet date shall be discounted to their present value.

D. Employees' and directors' remuneration

Employees' remuneration and directors' remuneration are recognised as expenses and liabilities, provided that such recognition is required under legal obligation or constructive obligation and those amounts can be reliably estimated. Any difference between the resolved amounts and the subsequently actual distributed amounts is accounted for as change in estimation. If employee compensation is paid by shares, the Group calculates the number of shares based on the closing price at the previous day of the board meeting resolution.

(25) Income tax

A. The tax expense for the period comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognised in profit or loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or items recognised directly in equity, in which cases the tax is recognised in other comprehensive income or equity.

- B. The current income tax expense is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date in the countries where the Company and its subsidiaries operate and generate taxable income. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in accordance with applicable tax regulations. It establishes provisions where appropriate based on the amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities. An additional tax is levied on the unappropriated retained earnings and is recorded as income tax expense in the year the stockholders resolve to retain the earnings.
- C. Deferred tax is recognised, using the balance sheet liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the consolidated balance sheet. However, the deferred tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of goodwill or of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences. Deferred tax is provided on temporary differences arising on investments in subsidiaries and associates, except where the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference is controlled by the Group and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the balance sheet date and are expected to apply when the related deferred tax asset is realised or the deferred tax liability is settled.
- D. Deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised. At each balance sheet date, unrecognised and recognised deferred tax assets are reassessed.

(26) Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or stock options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

(27) Revenue recognition

Sales of goods

- A. The Group manufactures and sells digital cable and communication products. Sales are recognised when control of the products has transferred, being when the products are delivered to the buyer, the buyer has full discretion over the channel and price to sell the products, and there is no unfulfilled obligation that could affect the buyer's acceptance of the products. Delivery occurs when the products have been shipped to the specific location, the risks of obsolescence and loss have been transferred to the buyer, and either the buyer has accepted the products in accordance with the sales contract, or the Group has objective evidence that all criteria for acceptance have been satisfied.
- B. The sales usually are made with a credit term of 60-120 days, which is consistent with market practice. As the time interval between the transfer of committed goods or service and the payment of customer does not exceed one year, the Group does not adjust the transaction price to reflect the time value of money.
- C. The Group's obligation to provide a repair for faulty products under the standard warranty terms is recognised as a provision.
- D. A receivable is recognised when the goods are delivered as this is the point in time that the consideration is unconditional because only the passage of time is required before the payment is due.

(28) Government grants

Government grants are recognised at their fair value only when there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with any conditions attached to the grants and the grants will be received. Government grants are recognised in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Group recognises expenses for the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate.

(29) Operating segments

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the Chief Operating Decision-Maker. The Group's Chief Operating Decision-Maker, who is responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segments, has been identified as the Board of Directors that makes strategic decisions.

5. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS, ESTIMATES AND KEY SOURCES OF ASSUMPTION UNCERTAINTY

The preparation of these consolidated financial statements requires management to make critical judgements in applying the Group's accounting policies and make critical assumptions and estimates concerning future events. Assumptions and estimates may differ from the actual results and are continually evaluated and adjusted based on historical experience and other factors. Such assumptions and estimates have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year; and the related information is addressed below:

(1) Critical judgements in applying the Group's accounting policies None.

(2) Critical accounting estimates and assumptions

A. Evaluation of inventories

As inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value, the Group must determine the net realisable value of inventories on balance sheet date using judgements and estimates. Due to the rapid technology innovation, the Group evaluates the amounts of normal inventory consumption, obsolete inventories or inventories without market selling value on balance sheet date, and writes down the cost of inventories to the net realisable value. Such an evaluation of inventories is principally based on the demand for the products within the specified period in the future. Therefore, there might be material changes to the evaluation. Please refer to Note 6 for details of inventory valuation.

As of December 31, 2023, the carrying amount of inventories was $1,869,287.

B. Impairment assessment of accounts receivable

The assessment of accounts receivable impairment relies on the Group's judgement and assumption about the recoverable amount of the accounts receivable in the future, taking into account various factors such as client's financial status, the Group's internal credit rating, transaction history and others which might affect the client's repayment ability. Where there is suspicion of recoverability, the Group needs to individually assess the possible recoverable amount and recognise reasonable impairment. The assessment of impairment depends on reasonable expectation about future events on the basis of the conditions existing at the balance sheet date. The estimation may differ from the actual result and may lead to material changes. Please refer to Note 6 for impairment assessment of accounts receivable.

As of December 31, 2023, the carrying amount of accounts receivable was $1,639,697.

C. Impairment assessment of intangible assets

The Group assesses impairment based on its subjective judgement and determines the separate cash flows of a specific group of assets and the future possible income and expenses arising from the assets depending on how assets are utilised and industrial characteristics. Any changes of economic circumstances or estimates due to the change of Group strategy might cause material impairment on assets in the future.

As of December 31, 2023, the carrying amount of intangible assets was $124,110.

- A. None of the Group's notes receivable are overdue. Accounts receivable ageing analysis was based on past due date. Please refer to Note 12(2) for details of related credit risk information.
- B. As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, accounts and notes receivable were all from contracts with customers. As of January 1, 2022, the total amount of receivables from contracts with customers amounted to $1,578,812, and the loss allowance amounted to $17,425.
- C. As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, without taking into account other credit enhancements, the maximum exposure to credit risk in respect of the amount that best represents the Group's notes and accounts receivable were $1,639,845 and $1,904,959, respectively.
- D. The Group has no notes and accounts receivable pledged to others as collateral.

Note 1: Considering the business operation, the Group leased certain plants to others since September 2022 and reclassified to the investment property amounting to $157,956, please refer to Note 6(9) for details.

Note 2: Information about the property, plant and equipment that were pledged to others as collateral is provided in Note 8.

(8) Leasing arrangements—lessee

- A. The Group leases various assets including land use right, buildings and business vehicles. Rental contracts are typically made for periods of 2 to 50 years. Lease terms are negotiated on an individual basis and contain a wide range of different terms and conditions. The lease agreements do not impose covenants, but leased assets may not be used as security for borrowing purposes.
- B. Short-term leases with a lease term of no more than 12 months include certain dormitories and instruments.
- C. The movements of right-of-use assets of the Group are as follows:

- A. Based on the key technologies in chip development, on May 29, 2023, the Board of Directors of the consolidated subsidiary, AkiraNET Co., resolved to enter into an intellectual property authorisation and cooperative purchasing contract with Performance Connectivity (Beijing Bolian Semiconductor Co., Ltd.), regarding the transmission and reception of Wi-Fi signals requiring wireless signal processing through a radio frequency integrated circuit (RFIC). It is expected that the chip transmission efficiency in the development plan will be improved by obtaining the source code of transmission chip. The total contract value was US$2,000 thousand (approximately $77,847). As of December 31, 2023, according to the contract, AkiraNET Co. had paid US$1,800 thousand.
- B. In the third quarter of 2023, as the phased acceptance progress of software and chips development was not as expected as described in the Note 6(11), as well as in the fourth quarter of 2023, Coherent Logix Incorporated informed AkiraNET Co. that it was unable to continue to deliver the research and development results of software and chips based on the schedule agreed by both parties, which affected the future economic value of intellectual property. Therefore, the Group assessed the probabilities and its net cash flows of different future results of the project, and recognised impairment loss on intellectual property in the amount of $244,586 by the carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount.
- C. Details of amortization on intangible assets are as follows:

| | Year ended | Decer | nber 31, |
|-----------------------------------|----------------|-----------|----------|
| | 2023 | | 2022 |
| Operating costs | $ 381 | $ | 472 |

D. The Group has no pledged intangible assets to others as collateral.

A. Considering the business strategy, on August 27, 2021, the Board of Directors of the consolidated subsidiary, AkiraNET Co., resolved to engage Coherent Logix Incorporated to develop software and chips and authorise relevant intellectual property. Consequently, on September 3, 2021, AkiraNET Co. entered into aforementioned technology development contract with Coherent Logix Incorporated, for a total contract value of US$21,514 thousand, including cash payment of US$17,963 thousand and share options of US$7,000 thousand which could be exercised by Coherent Logix Incorporated (according to the appraisal report, the fair value was US$3,551 thousand). Based on the best performance of the research project, they revised the contract content on October 6, 2022. total contract value after the revision was US$13,953 thousand. The prepaid intellectual property included in the signing bonus originally paid by AkiraNET Co. amounting to US$3,579 thousand (approximately $99,412) had been refunded according to the contract.

As of December 31, 2023, according to the contract, AkiraNET Co. had paid a net amount of US$6,772 thousand (approximately $185,075) and granted share options. However, as Coherent Logix Incorporated did not fulfil its performance obligations as described in Note 6(10), AkiraNET Co. assessed that the low possibility of recovering the prepayments and recognised impairment loss on prepaid technology development expenses amounting to $38,791 for the year ended December 31, 2023.

- B. Due to the impact of the pandemic on the international semiconductor supply chain, the raw materials and supplies that AkiraNET Co. originally planned to use in the research and development of technologies were in shortage. In order to control the development cost and avoid delay in the research schedule of the project, AkiraNET Co. changed and engaged Socionext Inc. to develop certain chips in the projects. Socionext Inc. conducted the front-end design of the chips and the improvement, package and testing of back-end specification design of the chips according to the contract. The total contract value was US$10,570 thousand. As of December 31, 2023, according to the contract, AkiraNET Co. paid US$5,051 thousand (approximately $156,118). However, as described in the above Note 6(10)B, it may affect the progress of ongoing research and development program which agreed between AkiraNET Co. and Socionext Inc. As of reporting date, the schedule has not yet gone into the next stage of the chips acceptance.
- C. The authorisation of IP that AkiraNET Co. acquired from the project for the year ended December 31, 2022 had been reclassified as intangible assets amounting to $165,688. In addition, research and development expense amounting to $47,103 and $64,835 were recognised for the nine months ended September 30, 2023 and for the year ended December 31, 2022, respectively, according to the phased acceptance results of chips and software development.
- D. Details of the Group's financial assets pledged to others as collateral are provided in Note 8.

Payables for employees' compensation

(a) The Company has a defined benefit pension plan in accordance with the Labor Standards Law, covering all regular employees' service years prior to the enforcement of the Labor Pension Act on July 1, 2005 and service years thereafter of employees who chose to continue to be subject to the pension mechanism under the Law. Under the defined benefit pension plan, two units are accrued for each year of service for the first 15 years and one unit for each additional year thereafter, subject to a maximum of 45 units. Pension benefits are based on the number of units accrued and the average monthly salaries and wages of the last 6 months prior to retirement. The Company contributes monthly an amount equal to 2% of the employees' monthly salaries and wages to the retirement fund deposited with Bank of Taiwan, the trustee, under the name of the independent retirement fund committee. Also, the Company would assess the balance in the aforementioned labor pension reserve account by the end of December 31, every year. If the account balance is insufficient to pay the pension calculated by the aforementioned method, to the employees expected to be qualified for retirement next year, the Company will make contributions to cover the deficit by next March.

(d) The Bank of Taiwan was commissioned to manage the Fund of the Company's and domestic subsidiaries' defined benefit pension plan in accordance with the Fund's annual investment and utilisation plan and the "Regulations for Revenues, Expenditures, Safeguard and Utilisation of the Labor Retirement Fund" (Article 6: The scope of utilisation for the Fund includes deposit in domestic or foreign financial institutions, investment in domestic or foreign listed, over-the-counter, or private placement equity securities, investment in domestic or foreign real estate securitisation products, etc.). With regard to the utilisation of the Fund, its minimum earnings in the annual distributions on the final financial statements shall be no less than the earnings attainable from the amounts accrued from two-year time deposits with the interest rates offered by local banks. If the earnings is less than aforementioned rates, government shall make payment for the deficit after being authorized by the Regulator. The Company has no right to participate in managing and operating that fund and hence the Company is unable to disclose the classification of plan asset fair value in accordance with IAS 19 paragraph 142. The composition of fair value of plan assets as of December 31, 2023 and 2022 is given in the Annual Labor Retirement Fund Utilisation Report announced by the government.

(e) The principal actuarial assumptions used were as follows:

| | Year ended De | ecember 31, |
|-------------------------|---------------|-------------|
| | 2023 | 2022 |
| Discount rate | 1.20% | 1.30% |
| Future salary increases | 2.40% | 2.40% |

Assumptions regarding future mortality experience are set based on actuarial advice in accordance with the 6^{th} Period Taiwan Life Tables.

Because the main actuarial assumption changed, the present value of defined benefit obligation is affected. The analysis was as follows:

| Ž | Discount rate | | | | | Future salary increases | | | |

The sensitivity analysis above is based on other conditions that are unchanged but only one assumption is changed. In practice, more than one assumption may change all at once. The method of analysing sensitivity and the method of calculating net pension liability in the balance sheet are the same.

- (f) Expected contributions to the defined benefit pension plans of the Group for the year ending December 31, 2024 amount to $1,878.
- (g) As of December 31, 2023, the weighted average duration of that retirement plan is 7 years. The analysis of timing of the future pension payment was as follows:

| Within 1 year | $ 34,957 |
|---------------|-------------------|
| 1-2 year(s) | 18,221 |
| 2-5 years | 41,559 |
| Over 5 years | 50,646 |
| | $ 145,383 |

B. Defined contribution plans

- (a) Effective July 1, 2005, the Company and its domestic subsidiaries have established a defined contribution pension plan (the "New Plan") under the Labor Pension Act (the "Act"), covering all regular employees with R.O.C. nationality. Under the New Plan, the Company and its domestic subsidiaries contribute monthly an amount based on 6% of the employees' monthly salaries and wages to the employees' individual pension accounts at the Bureau of Labor Insurance. The benefits accrued are paid monthly or in lump sum upon termination of employment.
- (b) The Company's mainland China subsidiary, Zinwell Corporation (Shenzhen) Co., Ltd., has a defined contribution plan. Monthly contributions to an independent fund administered by the government in accordance with the pension regulations in the People's Republic of China (PRC) are based on certain percentage of employees' monthly salaries and wages. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, the distribution ratio both were 14%, every employees' pensions were aggregately arranged by government. Other than the monthly contributions, the Group has no further obligations.
- (c) The pension costs under the defined contribution pension plan of the Group for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022 were $45,091 and $44,662, respectively.

(15) Share capital

As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company's authorized capital was $3,990,000, consisting of 399,000 thousand shares of ordinary stock, including 20,000 thousand shares were retained for employee options, shares of warrant, warrant preferred stock and warrant bond conversion. The paid-in capital was $3,176,890 for both periods. The issued and outstanding common stock was both 317,689 thousand shares with a par value of $10 (in dollars) per share. All proceeds from shares issued have been collected.

(16) Capital surplus

- A. Pursuant to the R.O.C. Company Act, capital surplus arising from paid-in capital in excess of par value on issuance of common stocks and donations can be used to cover accumulated deficit or to issue new stocks or cash to shareholders in proportion to their share ownership, provided that the Company has no accumulated deficit. Further, the R.O.C. Securities and Exchange Law requires that the amount of capital surplus to be capitalised mentioned above should not exceed 10% of the paid-in capital each year. Capital surplus should not be used to cover accumulated deficit unless the legal reserve is insufficient.
- B. In 2021, the consolidated subsidiary, AkiraNET Co., engaged Coherent Logix Incorporated to develop software and chips and authorised relevant intellectual property, and issued share options according to the contract (according to the appraisal report, the fair value was US$3,551 thousand). According to the above appraisal report, AkiraNET Co. recognised capital surplus in the amount of US$3,551 thousand (approximately $98,412). However, the share options had expired in August 2023 and the Company increased capital surplus in the amount of $54,530 in proportion to its ownership.

(17) Retained earnings

- A. Under the Company's Articles of Incorporation, the current year's earnings, if any, shall first be used to pay all taxes and offset prior years' operating losses and then 10% of the remaining amount shall be set aside as legal reserve. Subsequently, the Company shall set aside special reserve from the net decreased amount of other stockholders' equity in the current period. The appropriation of the total distributable amount (that is, the distributable amount for the period along with accumulated unappropriated earnings from prior years) should be proposed by the Board of Directors and voted on by the shareholders at the shareholders' meeting. According to the dividend policy adopted by the Board of Directors, cash dividends shall account for at least 8% of the total dividends distributed.
- B. Except for covering accumulated deficit or issuing new stocks or cash to shareholders in proportion to their share ownership, the legal reserve shall not be used for any other purpose. The use of legal reserve for the issuance of stocks or cash to shareholders in proportion to their share ownership is permitted, provided that the distribution of the reserve is limited to the portion in excess of 25% of the Company's paid-in capital.
- C. (a) In accordance with the regulations, the Company shall set aside special reserve from the debit balance on other equity items at the balance sheet date before distributing earnings. When debit balance on other equity items is reversed subsequently, the reversed amount could be included in the distributable earnings.
 - (b) The amounts previously set aside by the Company as special reserve on initial application of IFRSs in accordance with Order No. Financial-Supervisory-Securities-Corporate 1090150022, dated March 31, 2021, shall be reversed proportionately when the relevant assets are used, disposed of or reclassified subsequently. Such amounts are reversed upon disposal or reclassified if the assets are investment property of land, and reversed over the use period if the assets are investment property other than land.
 - (c) The Company has provisioned special reserve on initial application of IFRSs in the amount of $57,817. In addition, for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company did not reverse special reserve to undistributed earnings due to use, disposal or reclassification of related resources. As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the amount of special reserve on initial application was $57,817.

- D. (a) On June 14, 2022, shareholders of the Company resolved not to distribute dividends due to there were no earnings for the year ended December 31, 2021.
 - (b) The appropriation of 2022 earnings as resolved by the shareholders on June 14, 2023 are as follows:

| | - | |
|------------------------------|--------------|--------|
| Legal reserve appropriated | $ | 1,031 |
| Special reserve appropriated | | 15,995 |

(c) On March 6, 2024, the Board of Directors of the Company proposed not to distribute dividends due to there were no earnings for the year ended December 31, 2023.

Information about the appropriation of retained earnings of the Company as proposed by the Board of Directors and resolved by the shareholders' will be posted in the "Market Observation Post System" at the website of the Taiwan Stock Exchange.

(18) Operating revenue

A. Disaggregation of revenue from contracts with customers

The Group derives revenue from the transfer of goods and services at a point in time in the following major product lines and generated related revenue in each reportable segment:

| | Year ended December 31, | | | |
|--|-------------------------|-----------|----|-----------|
| | | 2023 | | 2022 |

9. SIGNIFICANT CONTINGENT LIABILITIES AND UNRECOGNISED CONTRACT COMMITMENTS

- (1) The Company entered into a royalty contract with MPEG LA,LLC, InterDigital CE Patent Holdings,SAS, Dolby Laboratories Inc. and HDMI Licensing Administrator,Inc., wherein the Company should pay royalties according to contract price.
- (2) The consolidated subsidiary, AkiraNET Co., entered into software and chip development and related intellectual property authorisation contract with Coherent Logix Incorporated, the contracted and unpaid amount was US$3,630 thousand please refer to Note 6(11) for details.

The consolidated subsidiary, AkiraNET Co., entered into chip development and related intellectual property authorisation contract with Socionext Inc, the contracted and unpaid amount was US$5,519 thousand ,please refer to Note 6(11) for details.

The consolidated subsidiary, AkiraNET Co., entered into an intellectual property authorisation and cooperative purchasing contract with Performance Connectivity (Beijing Bolian Semiconductor Co., Ltd.), the contracted and unpaid amount was US$200 thousand, please refer to Note 6(10) for details.

As mentioned in Note 6(10) 2., the Group will continue to evaluate the research and development results and developmental of each stage of the project, and negotiate with the contract counterparties based on the evaluation results to adjust the above contract terms such as software, chip development and intellectual property authorisation.

(3) A. The construction company, Shang-Ho Construction Co., Ltd. who undertook the construction of the Company's plant in Chiayi City, disagreed with the proceeds from construction reduction of doors and windows, and filed a litigation to the Taiwan New Taipei District Court that the Company should pay the dispute proceeds for the construction in the amount of $4,625 as well as the interest. In September 2021, after the first instance, the court rendered a judgement that the Company should pay $4,225 plus interest. The Company had accrued litigation loss and other payables in the amount of $4,225. The Company disagreed with the judgement and filed for litigation. The Company disagreed with the judgement and filed for litigation. On May 18, 2023, the Supreme Court rendered a final judgement that the Company did not need to pay the aforementioned dispute proceeds, which resulted in gains from reversal of litigation compensation payable $4,225. Please refer to Note 6(20) for details.

B. The construction company, Shang-Ho Construction Co., Ltd. who undertook the construction of the Company's plant in Chiayi City, claimed that the construction design layout had negligence and extended working period which affected the construction method and increased construction cost. In February 2020, it filed a litigation to the Taiwan New Taipei District Court that the Company should pay the dispute proceeds for the construction in the amount of $37,626 and the interest. Because both parties had entered into incremental agreement on the changed design in the construction period, the Company assessed the claim had no evidence and commissioned lawyers to ask the court to reject the claim, the Company had not provisioned related losses on aforementioned litigation. As of reporting date, the court had not made a judgement.

The Company will actively defend aforementioned litigation which was in process. However, due to the nature of unpredictability of legal cases, the possible losses could not be accurately estimated (if any). Furthermore, even though the litigation still pending for the judgement of the court, it had no significant effects on the Company's operations, finance and business.

12.OTHERS

(1) Capital management

The Group's objectives when managing capital are to safeguard the Group's ability to continue as a going concern in order to provide returns for shareholders and to maintain an optimal capital structure to reduce the cost of capital. In order to maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Group may adjust the amount of dividends paid to shareholders, return capital to shareholders, issue new shares or sell assets to reduce debt. The Group monitors capital on the basis of the gearing ratio. This ratio is calculated as total debt divided by total capital. Total debt is calculated as total liabilities listed on the consolidated balance sheet. Total capital is calculated as 'equity' as shown in the consolidated balance sheet plus total debt.

During the year ended December 31, 2023, the Group's strategy was unchanged from 2022. The gearing ratios at December 31, 2023 and 2022 were 27% and 30%, respectively.

B. Financial risk management policies

- (a) The Group's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk and price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk.
- (b)Risk management is carried out by a central treasury department (Group treasury) under policies approved by the Board of Directors. Group treasury identifies, evaluates and hedges financial risks in close co-operation with the Group's operating units.

C. Significant financial risks and degrees of financial risks

(a) Market risk

Foreign exchange risk

- i. The Group operates internationally and is exposed to exchange rate risk arising from the transactions of the Company and its subsidiaries used in various functional currency, primarily with respect to the USD and RMB. Exchange rate risk arises from recognized assets and liabilities.
- ii. Management has set up a policy to require group companies to manage their foreign exchange risk against their functional currency. The companies are required to hedge their entire foreign exchange risk exposure with the Group treasury.
- iii. The Group's businesses involve some non-functional currency operations (the Company's and certain subsidiaries' functional currency: NTD; other certain subsidiaries' functional currency: RMB). The information on assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies whose values would be materially affected by the exchange rate fluctuations is as follows:

Price risk

The Group's equity securities, which are exposed to price risk, are the held financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income. The Group is not exposed to significant price risk.

Cash flow and fair value interest rate risk

If the Group's borrowings are issued at variable rate, it will expose the Group to cash flow interest rate risk; borrowings issued at fixed rates expose the Group to fair value interest rate risk. On December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Group's borrowings were denominated in New Taiwan dollars and U.S. Dollars. As the borrowings were mainly issued at fixed rate, the interest risk had no significant effects to the Group.

(b) Credit risk

- i. Credit risk refers to the risk of financial loss to the Group arising from default by the clients or counterparties of financial instruments on the contract obligations. The main factor is that counterparties could not repay in full the accounts receivable based on the agreed terms.
- ii. The Group manages their credit risk taking into consideration the entire group's concern. According to the Group's credit policy, each local entity in the Group is responsible for managing and analysing the credit risk for each of their new clients before standard payment and delivery terms and conditions are offered. Internal risk control assesses the credit quality of the customers, taking into account their financial position, past experience and other factors.
- iii. The Group adopts the assumptions under IFRS 9. There has been a significant increase in credit risk on the financial assets since initial recognition when the contract payments were past due over 30 days.
- iv. In accordance with the historical collection experience, the default occurs when the contract payments are past due over 181 days.
- v. The Group provisioned the financial assets to loss allowance at full amount, which cannot be reasonably expected to be recovered, after initiating recourse procedures. However, the Group will continue executing the recourse procedures to secure their rights. On December 31, 2023 and 2022, the amount of the Group's debt right with recourse which had provisioned losses at full amount were both $214,775.
- vi. The Group took into consideration the forecast ability to adjust historical and timely information to assess the default possibility of accounts receivable. On December 31, 2023 and 2022, the provision matrix was as follows:

| | Withoutpast_due | Up to | Up to 91~180 days | Over 181 days | Total |
|--------------------------|---------------------|-------------------|-------------------|------------------|---------------------|
| December 31, 2023 | | | | | |

| Loss allowance | $ 1,284 | $ 3,830 | $ 371 | $ | $ 5,485 |

vii. Movements in relation to the Group applying the modified approach to provide loss allowance for accounts receivable and overdue receivables are as follows:

(c) Liquidity risk

- i. Cash flow forecasting is performed in the operating entities of the Group and aggregated by Group treasury. Group treasury monitors rolling forecasts of the Group's liquidity requirements to ensure it has sufficient cash to meet operational needs while maintaining sufficient headroom on its undrawn committed borrowing facilities at all times so that the Group does not breach borrowing limits or covenants on any of its borrowing facilities.
- ii. Surplus cash held by the operating entities over and above balance required for working capital management are transferred to the Group treasury. Group treasury invests surplus cash in interest bearing current accounts and time deposits, choosing instruments with appropriate maturities or sufficient liquidity to provide sufficient head-room as determined by the above-mentioned forecasts.
- iii. The Group has the following undrawn borrowing facilities:

| | Decel | 110e1 31, 2023 | Decemb | e_{1} g_{1} , g_{0} |
|--------------------------|-------|----------------|--------|---------------------------|
| Floating rate | | | | |
| Expiring within one year | $ | 1,631,040 | $ | 1,757,299 |

iv. The Group's non-derivative financial liabilities are analysed based on the remaining period at the balance sheet date to the contractual maturity date. Except for the following, the Group's undiscounted contractual cash flows of non-derivative financial liabilities were approximate to their book value and will be matured in 1 year, the remaining undiscounted cash flows:

| | | | Betw | een | Between | | Ov | rer | |

The Group does not expect the timing of occurrence of the cash flows estimated through the maturity date analysis will be significantly earlier, nor expect the actual cash flow amount will be significantly different.

(3) Fair value information

- A. The different levels that the inputs to valuation techniques are used to measure fair value of financial and non-financial instruments have been defined as follows:
 - Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date. A market is regarded as active where a market in which transactions for the asset or liability take place with sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis.
 - Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.
 - Level 3: Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability. The fair value of the Group's investment in equity investment without active market is included in Level 3.
- B. Fair value information of investment property at cost is provided in Note 6(9).

(a) The related information of natures of the assets is as follows:

- C. Financial instruments not measured at fair value
 - The carrying amounts of the Group's financial instruments not measured at fair value (including cash and cash equivalents, financial assets at amortised cost, notes receivable, accounts receivable, other receivables, guarantee deposits paid, short-term borrowings, notes payable, accounts payable, other payables and guarantee deposits received) are approximate to their fair values.
- D. The related information of financial and non-financial instruments measured at fair value by level on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the assets is as follows:
 - December 31, 2023 Level 1 Level 3 Total Recurring fair value measurements Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income 270 $ Equity securities Level 1 Level 3 December 31, 2022 Total Recurring fair value measurements Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income Equity securities 204 $ 204

- (b) The methods and assumptions the Group used to measure fair value are as follows:
 - i. The instruments the Group used market quoted prices as their fair values (that is, Level 1) are listed below by characteristics:

Listed shares

Market quoted price

Closing price

- ii. The fair value of the financial instruments is measured by using valuation techniques or by reference to counterparty quotes. The fair value of financial instruments measured by using valuation techniques can be referred to current fair value of instruments with similar terms and characteristics in substance, discounted cash flow method or other valuation methods, including calculated by applying model using market information available at the consolidated balance sheet date (i.e. yield curves on the Taipei Exchange, average commercial paper interest rates quoted from Reuters).
- iii. The output of valuation model is an estimated value and the valuation technique may not be able to capture all relevant factors of the Group's financial and non-financial instruments. Therefore, the estimated value derived using valuation model is adjusted accordingly with additional inputs, for example, model risk or liquidity risk and etc. In accordance with the Group's management policies and relevant control procedures relating to the valuation models used for fair value measurement, management believes adjustment to valuation is necessary in order to reasonably represent the fair value of financial instruments at the consolidated balance sheet. The inputs and pricing information used during valuation are carefully assessed and adjusted based on current market conditions.
- iv. The Group takes into account adjustments for credit risks to measure the fair value of financial instruments to reflect credit risk of the counterparty and the Group's credit quality.
- E. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, there were no transfer between Level 1 and Level 2.
- F. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, there were no transfer into or out from Level 3.
- G. Treasury segment is in charge of valuation procedures for fair value measurements being categorised within Level 3, which is to verify independent fair value of financial instruments. Such assessment is to ensure the valuation results are reasonable by applying independent information to make results close to current market conditions, confirming the resource of information is independent, reliable and in line with other resources and represented as the exercisable price, and frequently updating inputs used to the valuation model and making any other necessary adjustments to the fair value.
- H. The Group has carefully assessed the valuation models used to measure fair value. However, use of different valuation models may result in measurement difference.

V. The individual financial statements having been audited and certified by certified public accountants in most recent year

Independent Auditors' Report (113) Cai-Shen-Bao-Zi No. 23004494

To Zinwell Corporation,

Audit opinion

We have reviewed the accompanying parent company only balance sheet of Zinwell Corporation (the "Company") for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022 and the relevant parent company only statements of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and relevant notes, including a summary of significant accounting policies (collectively referred to as the "parent company only financial statements").

In our opinion, the accompanying parent company only financial statements, present fairly, in all material respects, the individual financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2023 and 2022 and for the years then ended, and its individual financial performance and individual cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers.

Basis of audit opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and auditing standards of the Republic of China. Our responsibility under those standards are further described in the paragraph "Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the parent company only financial statements." We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that we have acquired enough and appropriate audit evidence to serve as the basis of audit opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters refer to the most vital matters in our audit of the parent company only financial statements of the Company for the year ended December 31, 2023, based on our professional judgment. These matters were addressed in our audit of the parent company only financial statements as a whole, and in forming our audit opinion. We do not express a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters of the parent company only financial statements of the Company for the year ended December 31, 2023, are stated as follows:

Inventory valuation

Description

See Note 4 (12) to the parent company only financial statements for the accounting policy on inventories; Note 5 for the uncertainty over accounting estimates and assumptions of inventory valuation; Note 6(4) for the description of inventory valuation losses.

The Company engages in the sales of digital wired and communication products. Due to the rapid changes in technology, the short life cycle of electronic products, and the fierce market competition, the risk of inventory valuation loss or obsolescence loss is higher and the valuation of obsolete inventory often involves subjective judgment. The aforementioned matters also exist in the subsidiaries of the Company (recognized as investments using the equity method), so we believe that the inventory valuation of the Company's and its subsidiaries is one of the key audit matters.

Corresponding audit procedures

We performed the following procedures for inventory valuation losses:

1. Based on our understanding of the Company's operations and industry nature, we assessed the reasonableness of the policies and procedures adopted to assess the inventory valuation losses, including the classification of inventories that determines the net realizable value.

- 2. We reviewed the Company's annual inventory plan and observed the annual inventories to evaluate the effectiveness of management in distinguishing and controlling obsolete inventory.
- 3. We verified the amounts used by the Company to determine the classification of obsolete inventory and the net realizable value of inventories, including obtaining the net realizable value report of each inventory, evaluating the appropriateness of the calculation logic of the reports, testing relevant supporting documents, and recalculating and evaluating the reasonableness of the inventory valuation losses determined by the Company.

Evaluation of accounts receivable impairment

Description

See Note 4(8) to the parent company only financial statements for the accounting policy on accounts receivable; see Note 5 for the uncertainty over accounting estimates and assumptions of impairment of accounts receivable; see Note 6(3) for the description of accounts receivable.

The process of evaluating the Company's accounts receivable impairment was affected by many factors, including clients' financial position, internal credit ratings, and historical transaction records. This might affect the evaluation of clients' credit quality, and we evaluated the expected credit loss based on the evaluation results. As the aforementioned evaluation often involve management's subjective judgments, and the Company's accounts receivable and the amounts evaluated have a significant impact on the financial statements, we consider that the evaluation of accounts receivable impairment is one of the key audit matters.

Corresponding audit procedures

We performed the following procedures for the evaluation of accounts receivable impairment:

1. Understand and test the credit risk management procedures of Zinwell Corporation,

- including the assessment and management of sales customers' credit limits, and the expected credit loss assessment procedures.
- 2. We learned about the reasons for the failure to collect payment or reviewed the collection status after the balance sheet date for major accounts receivable not collected during the normal credit period.

Responsibilities of the management and the governing bodies for the parent company only financial statements

The responsibilities of management are to prepare the parent company only financial statements with fair presentation in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and to maintain necessary internal control associated with the preparation in order to ensure that the financial statements are free from material misstatement arising from fraud or error.

In preparing the parent company only financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the ability of the Company in continuing as a going concern, disclosing relevant matters, and adopting the going concern basis of accounting unless the management intends to liquidate the Company or cease the operations without other viable alternatives.

The Company's governing bodies (including the Audit Committee) are responsible for supervising the financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the parent company only financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance on whether the parent company only financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement arising from fraud or error and to issue an independent auditors' report. Reasonable assurance is a high-level assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the auditing standards of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatement may arise from frauds or errors. If the amounts of misstatements, either separately or in aggregate, could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of the users of the parent company only financial statements, they are considered material.

We have utilized our professional judgment and professional skepticism when performing the audit work in accordance with the auditing standards of the Republic of China. We also performed the following tasks:

- 1. Identified and assessed the risks of material misstatement arising from fraud or error within the parent company only financial statements; designed and executed countermeasures in response to said risks, and obtained sufficient and appropriate audit evidence to provide a basis for our opinion. Fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Therefore, the risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than the one resulting from error.
- 2. Understood the internal control related to the audit in order to design appropriate audit procedures under the circumstances, while not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- 3. Evaluated the appropriateness of accounting policies adopted and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and relevant disclosures made by management.
- 4. Concluded on the appropriateness of management's adoption of the going concern basis of accounting based on the audit evidence obtained and whether a material uncertainty exists for events or conditions that may cast significant doubt over the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we are of the opinion that a material uncertainty exists, we shall remind users of the parent company only financial statements to pay attention to relevant disclosures in said statements within our audit report. If such disclosures are inadequate, we need to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- 5. Evaluated the overall presentation, structure, and content of the parent company only - financial statements (including relevant notes), and whether the parent company only financial statements adequately present the relevant transactions and events.

- 6. Obtained sufficient and appropriate audit evidence concerning the financial information of entities within the Company, to express an opinion on the parent company only financial statements. We were responsible for guiding, supervising, and performing the audit and forming an audit opinion about the Company.

The matters communicated between us and the governing bodies included the planned scope and times of the audit and material audit findings (including any material defects in internal control identified during the audit).

We also provided the governing bodies with a statement that we have complied with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China regarding independence and communicated with them all relations and other matters that may possibly be regarded as detrimental to our independence (including relevant protective measures).

From the matters communicated with the governing bodies, we determined the key audit matters for the audit of the Company's parent company only financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2023. We have clearly indicated such matters in the auditors' report. Unless legal regulations prohibit the public disclosure of specific matters, or in extremely rare cases, where we decided not to communicate over specific items in the auditors' report for it could be reasonably anticipated that the negative effects of such disclosure would be greater than the public interest it brings forth.

IV. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The main accounting policies used in the preparation of the parent company only financial statements are described below. Unless otherwise stated, such policies apply consistently throughout all reporting periods.

(I) Statement of compliance

The parent company only financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers.

(II) Basis of preparation

- 1. Except for the important items below, the parent company only financial statements are prepared at historical cost:
 - (1) Financial assets measured at fair value through other comprehensive income.
 - (2) Defined benefit liabilities recognized as the net amount of pension fund assets less the present value of defined benefit obligations.
- 2. The preparation of financial reports in compliance with the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), International Accounting Standards (IAS), IFRIC Interpretations (IFRIC), and SIC Interpretations (SIC) (collectively, the "IFRSs") endorsed and issued into effect by the FSC requires the use of some critical accounting estimates. In the process of applying the Company's accounting policies, management also needs to exercise its judgment. For items involving high degree of judgment or complexity, or items involving critical assumptions and estimates of the parent company only financial statements, please refer to Note 5 for details.

(III) Foreign currency exchange

The items listed in the Company's parent company only financial statements are measured in the currency used in the main economic environment in which the Company operates, New Taiwan dollar (NTD), i.e. functional currency, as the presentation currency.

- 1. Foreign currency transactions and balances
 - (1) Foreign currency transactions are translated at the rates prevailing of exchange at the transaction date or measurement date, and the exchange difference arising from the translation of such transactions are recognized as the current profit or loss.
 - (2) The balance of foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities shall be and adjusted as per the rates of exchange prevailing at the balance sheet date, and the exchange difference arising from the adjustment is recognized as the current profit or loss.
 - (3) The balance of foreign currency non-monetary assets and liabilities is measured at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL), and is adjusted based on the spot exchange rate at the balance sheet date. The translation difference arising from the adjustment is recognized in current profit and loss. For measurement at fair value through other comprehensive income, it is adjusted based on the spot exchange rate at the balance sheet date, and the translation difference arising from the adjustment is recognized in - other comprehensive income. If it is not measured by fair value, it is measured at the historical exchange rate at the initial transaction date.

- (4) All exchange gains or losses are listed in the "other gains and losses" on the income statement.

2. Translation of foreign operations

- (1) For all investee entities whose functional currencies are different from the expression ones, their business results and financial position shall be translated into the expression currency in the following method:
 - A. The assets and liabilities presented at each balance sheet are translated at the closing exchange rate at the balance sheet date;
 - B. The income and expenses expressed in each comprehensive income statement are translated at the average exchange rate of the current period; and
 - C. All exchange differences arising from translation are recognized in other comprehensive income.
- (2) Where a foreign operation is partially disposed of or sold is a subsidiary, the cumulative exchange differences recognized in other comprehensive income is reclassified to the foreign operation's non-controlling interests on a pro rata basis. However, even if the Company still retains part of the equity of the former subsidiary but has lost control over said foreign operation that is also as subsidiary, it shall be handled as disposal of the entire equity of the foreign operation.

(IV) Criteria for classification of current and non-current assets and liabilities

- 1. Assets that meet one of the following conditions are classified as current assets:
 - (1) Assets expected to be realized in the ordinary course of business, or intended to be sold or consumed.
 - (2) Liabilities held primarily for the purpose of trading.
 - (3) Assets expected to be realized within 12 months after the balance sheet date.
 - (4) Cash or cash equivalents (excluding assets restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least 12 months after the balance sheet date).

The Company classifies all assets that do not meet the conditions above as non-current.

- 2. Liabilities that meet one of the following conditions are classified as current liabilities:
 - (1) Liabilities expected to be settled in the ordinary course of business.
 - (2) Liabilities held primarily for the purpose of trading.
 - (3) Liabilities expected to be settled within 12 months after the balance sheet date.

(4) Liabilities with a repayment deadline that cannot be unconditionally deferred for at least 12 months after the balance sheet date. However, the terms of a liability that could, at the option of the counterparty, result in its settlement by issue of equity instruments do not affect its classification.

The Company classifies all liabilities that do not meet the conditions above as non-current.

(V) Cash equivalents

Cash equivalents refer to short-term and highly liquid investments that can be converted into a certain amount of cash at any time and the risk of value changes is very small. Time deposits that meet the aforementioned definition and whose purpose is to satisfy short-term cash commitments (including time deposits with a contract period of less than three months) in operations are classified as cash equivalents.

(VI) Financial assets at FVTOCI

- The Company may, upon initial recognition, make an irrevocable election to recognize the fair value changes of equity instrument investments that are not held for trading in other comprehensive income.
- 2. The Company adopts trade date accounting for financial assets at FVTOCI in compliance with transaction practices.
- 3. The Company measures said asset at fair value plus transaction costs upon initial recognition, which are subsequently measured at fair value. Changes in the fair value of equity instruments are recognized in other comprehensive income. Upon derecognition, the accumulated gains or losses previously recognized in other comprehensive income shall not be subsequently reclassified to profit or loss and shall be transferred to retained earnings instead. When the right to receive dividends is established, economic benefits related to dividends are likely to flow in, and when the amount of dividends can be reliably measured, the Company recognizes dividend income in profit or loss.

(VII) Financial assets at amortized cost

- 1. Where the financial assets have met both of the following conditions:
 - (1) Financial assets held under the operational model for the purpose of collecting cash flow from contracts.
 - (2) The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise, on specified dates, to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.
- 2. The Company adopts trade date accounting for financial assets at amortized cost in compliance with transaction practices.

- 3. The Company measures said asset at fair value plus transaction costs upon initial recognition, which are subsequently recognized in interest income and impairment loss using the effective interest method based on the amortization procedure during the circulation period. During de-recognition, such gains or losses are recognized in profit or loss.
- 4. The Company holds time deposits that do not meet the definition of cash equivalents. With the short holding period, the effect of discounting is not material, and it is measured by the amount of investment.

(VIII) Accounts and notes receivable

- 1. It refers to accounts and notes that have been unconditionally received in exchange for the right to the amount of consideration for the delivery of goods or services as agreed in the contract.
- 2. The non-interest-bearing short-term accounts and notes receivable is barely affected by discounting, so the Company measures them based on the original invoice amount.

(IX) Impairment of financial assets

The each balance sheet date, considers all reasonable and corroborative information, including forward-looking information, based on the financial assets at amortized cost. For those with no significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, the loss allowance is measured at 12-month expected credit losses. For those with a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, the loss allowance is measured at the lifetime expected credit losses. For accounts receivable that do not contain significant financial components, the loss allowance is measured at the lifetime expected credit losses.

(X) Derecognition of financial assets

When the Company's contractual right to receive cash flows from financial assets has expired, said financial assets will be derecognized.

(XI) Lessor's lease transactions – operating leases

The rental income from operating lease, after any incentives given to the lessee are deducted, is amortized using the straight-line method over the lease term and recognized in current profit or loss.

(XII) Inventories

Inventories are measured at the lower of cost and net realizable value, and cost is determined by the weighted average method. The cost of finished goods and work in progress includes raw materials, direct labor, other direct costs, and production overhead (amortized based on normal production capacity) without including borrowing costs. When cost and the net realizable value are compared to see which is lower, the item-by-item comparison method is adopted. The net realizable value refers to the balance of the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated cost necessary to make the sale.

(XIII) Investment under the equity method/subsidiaries and associates.

- 1. A subsidiary refers to an entity under the control of the Company (including structured entities). When the Company is exposed to variable returns from the participation in the entity or is entitled to said variable returns, and has the ability to affect such returns through its power over the entity, the Company controls the entity.
- 2. Unrealized gains and losses between the Company and its subsidiaries have been eliminated. The accounting policies of the subsidiaries have been adjusted as necessary and are consistent with the policies adopted by the Company.
- 3. The Company recognizes the share of profit or loss on subsidiaries after acquired in current profit or loss, and recognizes the share of other comprehensive income on subsidiaries after acquired as other comprehensive income. If the Company's share of loss on a subsidiary that is recognized equals or exceeds its equity in the subsidiary, the Company continues to recognize the loss based on its shareholding percentage.
- 4. Associates refer to all entities that the Company has a significant influence on without control. Generally, the Company holds at least 20% of their voting shares directly or indirectly. The Company adopts the equity method to treat the investment in associates, which is recognized at cost of acquisition.
- 5. The Company recognizes the share of profit or loss on associates after acquired in current profit or loss, and recognizes the share of other comprehensive income on subsidiaries after acquired as other comprehensive income. If the Company's share of losses on an associate equals or exceeds its equity in the associate (including any other unsecured receivables), the Company will not recognize further losses unless the Company has incurred legal obligations or constructive obligations to said associate, or made payments on behalf of said associate.
- 6. When equity changes occur to an associate, which are not related to profit or loss and other comprehensive income, and said changes do not affect the shareholding percentage of the associate, the Company recognizes all equity changes in "capital surplus" based on the shareholding percentage.
- 7. Unrealized gains or losses arising from transactions between the Company and associates have been eliminated based on the proportion of its equity of the associates; unless evidence shows that the assets transferred have been impaired, the unrealized

- losses are also eliminated. The accounting policies of the associates have been adjusted as necessary and are consistent with the policies adopted by the Company.
- 8. If the affiliated enterprise issues new shares, if the Company fails to subscribe or acquire them proportionally, resulting in a change in the investment ratio but still a significant impact on the affiliate, the "capital reserve" and "Investments accounted for using equity method." If the investment ratio decreases as a result, in addition to the above-mentioned adjustment, the profit or loss previously recognized in other comprehensive income related to the decrease in ownership interest, and such profit or loss must be reclassified to if any, it is reclassified to profit or loss in proportion to the decrease.
- 9. Where the Company disposes of an associate and if it loses significant influence on the associate, for all amounts previously recognized in other comprehensive income related to the associate, the accounting treatment is on the same basis as if the Company directly disposes of the relevant assets or liabilities, that is, the gains or losses previously recognized in other comprehensive income will be reclassified to profit or loss when the relevant assets or liabilities are disposed of, so when the significant influence on the associate is lost, the gains or losses will be reclassified from equity to profit or loss. If the Company still has a significant influence on the associate, only the amount previously recognized in other comprehensive income is transferred out in the manner above on a pro rata basis.
- 10. In accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, the current profit or loss and other comprehensive income in the parent company only financial statements shall be the same as those attributable to the owners of the parent company in the financial statements prepared on a consolidated basis. The owners' equity in the parent company only financial statements shall be the same as the equity attributable to owners of the parent company in the financial statements prepared on a consolidated basis.

(XIV) Property, plant and equipment

- 1. Property, plant, and equipment are accounted for on the basis of acquisition cost, and the relevant interest during the acquisition and construction period is capitalized.
- 2. Subsequent costs are included in the carrying amount of the assets or recognized as a separate asset only when the future economic benefits related to an item are likely to flow into the Company and the cost of the item can be reliably measured. The carrying amount of the part replaced shall be derecognized. All other maintenance costs are recognized in current profit or loss when incurred.

- 3. The subsequent measurement of property, plant, and equipment is based on a cost model. Except for land that is not depreciated, other assets in this regard are depreciated on a straight-line basis based on the estimated useful lives. If the components of property, plant, and equipment are significant, they shall be separately depreciated.
- 4. The Company conducts annual review at the end of each year to assess the estimated useful lives, residual value, and depreciation methods, If the expected residual value and useful lives are different from the previous estimates, or the expected consumption pattern of future economic benefits contained in an asset has changed significantly, the Group shall adjust it in accordance with the provisions of IAS 8 "Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors" regarding changes in accounting estimates. The useful life of each asset is as follows:

Buildings and structures 5–55 years

Machinery and equipment 2–10 years

R&D equipment 2–8 years

Miscellaneous equipment 2–8 years

(XV) Lessee's lease transactions- right-of-use assets/lease liabilities

- 1. Leased assets are recognized in right-of-use assets and lease liabilities on the date they are available for use by the Company. When a lease contract is a short-term lease or lease of a low-value asset, the lease payment is recognized as an expense during the lease term using the straight-line method.
- 2. Lease liabilities are recognized at the present value of the unpaid lease payments at the discounted present value of the Company's incremental borrowing rate at the beginning of the lease. The lease payments are fixed payments less any lease incentives receivable.
- 3. The right-of-use asset is recognized at cost at the commencement date of a lease, and the cost is the lease liabilities initially measured.

Subsequently, the measurement is based on the cost model, and the depreciation expense is recognized when the useful life of the right-of-use asset expires or the lease term expires, whichever is earlier. When the lease liability is reassessed, the remeasurement of the lease liability will be adjusted for the right-of-use asset.

(XVI) Investment property

Investment property is recognized at cost, and subsequently measured at cost. Except for land, the useful life is depreciated using the straight-line method based on the useful lives of 40-55 years.

(XVII) Intangible assets

Computer software is recognized at acquisition cost and amortized based on the estimated useful life of 1-6 years using the straight-line method.

(XVIII) Non-financial asset impairment

The Company estimates the recoverable amount of assets with signs of impairment at the balance sheet date. When the recoverable amount is lower than its carrying amount, it is recognized in impairment loss. The recoverable amount refers to the fair value of an asset less the cost of disposal or its value in use, whichever is higher. When there is no impairment or reduced impairment in an asset recognized in prior years, the impairment loss shall be reversed, but the increased portion of the carrying amount of the asset due to the reversal of the impairment loss shall not exceed the carrying amount of the asset less depreciation or amortization without impairment loss recognized.

(XIX) Borrowings

It refers to short-term borrowings taken out from banks. The Company measures borrowings at fair value, less transaction costs, at the time of initial recognition and subsequently recognizes interest expenses on any difference between the amount, less transaction costs, and the redemption value, using the effective interest method according to the amortization procedures during the circulation period in profit or loss.

(XX) Accounts and notes payable

- 1. It refers to debts arising from the purchase of raw materials, merchandise, or services on credit, and notes payable arising from business and non-business.
- 2. The non-interest-bearing short-term accounts and notes payable is barely affected by discounting, so the Company measures them based on the original invoice amount.

(XXI) Derecognition of financial liabilities

The Company derecognizes their financial liabilities when the obligations specified in a contract are fulfilled, canceled, or expired.

(XXII) Offsetting of financial assets and liabilities

The financial assets and liabilities may be offset and the net amount is presented in the balance sheet when there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognized amounts of the financial assets and liabilities and there is an intention to settle on a net basis or realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

(XXIII) Employee benefits

1. Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are measured by the expected non-discounted amount of cash paid, and are recognized as expenses when the relevant services are provided.

2. Pension

(1) Defined contribution plan

Regarding the defined contribution plan, the amount of the pension fund that shall be contributed is recognized as current pension cost on an accrual basis. Prepaid contributions are recognized as an asset to the extent of a cash refund or a reduction in future payments.

(2) Defined benefit plan

- A. The net obligation under the defined benefit plan is calculated by discounting the amount of future benefits earned by employees in the current or past service period, with the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the balance sheet date less the fair value of the plan assets. The net obligation under the defined benefit plan is calculated annually by actuaries using the projected unit benefit method. The discount rate is the market yield rate of government bonds (at the balance sheet date) with the currency and period consistent with those of the defined benefit plan at the balance sheet date.
- B. The remeasurement generated by the defined benefit plan is recognized in other comprehensive income in the current period and presented in retained earnings.

3. Post-employment benefits

Post-employment benefits are benefits provided when an employee's employment is terminated before the normal retirement date or when the employee decides to accept the benefits offered by the Company in exchange for termination of employment. The Company recognizes expenses when it is no longer able to withdraw the offer of post-employment benefits or when the relevant restructuring costs are recognized, whichever is earlier. Benefits that are not expected to be fully settled 12 months after the balance sheet date shall be discounted.

4. Employee compensation and directors' remuneration

Employee compensation and directors' and supervisors' remuneration are recognized as expenses and liabilities when there are legal or constructive obligations and the amount can be reasonably estimated. If there is a difference between the amount actually distributed as resolved by the Group and the estimated amount, it shall be treated as a change in accounting estimates. If the employee's remuneration is paid in shares, the number of shares is calculated based on the closing price on the day before the date of the resolution of the board of directors.

(XXIV) Income taxes

- 1. Income tax expenses include the current and deferred income taxes. Except for income tax related to items included in other comprehensive income or directly included in equity recognized in comprehensive income or in equity directly, income tax is recognized in profit and/or loss.
- 2. The Company calculates current income tax based on the tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date in the country where the taxable income is generated and the business is operated. The management regularly evaluates the status of income tax filings with respect to applicable income tax regulations and, where applicable, estimates the income tax liabilities based on the expected taxes to be paid to the taxation authority. Undistributed earnings are subject to income tax as per the Income Tax Act. In the year following the year in which the earnings are generated, after the shareholders' meeting has passed the earnings distribution proposal, income tax expenses as per the undistributed earnings based on the actual earnings to be distributed are recognized.
- 3. The temporary difference between the tax basis of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the consolidated balance sheet is recognized for the deferred income tax using the balance sheet method. Deferred income tax liabilities from goodwill arising from initial recognition are not recognized. If the deferred income tax is derived from initial recognition of the asset or liability in a transaction (excluding business combinations), and if the accounting profit or taxable income (tax losses) is not affected at the time of the transaction, then the liabilities will not be recognized. With temporary differences caused by the investment in a subsidiary or an associate, if the Company can control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences, and it is probable that temporary differences will not be reversed in the foreseeable future, the liabilities will not be recognized. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date and are expected to apply when the relevant deferred income tax asset is realized or the deferred income tax liability is settled.
- 4. Deferred income tax assets are recognized only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilized. At each balance sheet date, unrecognized and recognized deferred income tax assets are reassessed.

5. The portion of the unused income tax carry-forward due to research and development expenditures after the balance sheet date is recognized as deferred income tax assets to the extent that it is likely that there will be future taxable income for the unused income tax carry-forward.

(XXV) Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. The incremental cost directly attributable to the issue of new shares or stock options are listed in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

(XXVI) Revenue recognition

Sales of merchandise

- 1. The Company manufactures and sells digital cable and communications products, and the sales revenue is recognized when the control of a product is transferred to a customer, that is, when the product is delivered to the buyer, the buyer has the discretion to determine the product distribution channels and the price, and the Company has no outstanding performance obligations that may affect the buyer's acceptance of the product. When a product is delivered to the designated location, the risk of obsolescence and loss has been transferred to the buyer, and the buyer accepts the product as per the sales contract, or when objective evidence shows that all criteria for acceptance have been met, the product has been delivered.
- 2. The payment terms for sales transactions usually expire 90 to 120 days after the date of shipment. As the period between the transfer of the promised goods or services to the customers and the payments by the customers has not exceeded one year, the Company did not adjust transaction price to reflect the time value of money.
- 3. The Company provides a standard warranty for the products sold, and is obliged to repair product defects; thus, provision is recognized upon sales.
- 4. Accounts receivable is recognized when goods are delivered to customers because at which time the Company's right to the consideration for contracts from customers is unconditional, except for the passage of time.

V. Critical Accounting Judgments and Key Sources of Estimation and Uncertainty

During the preparation of the parent company only financial statements, management has exercised its judgments to adopt the accounting policies to be used, and made accounting estimates and assumptions based on reasonable expectations of future events with reference to the circumstances at the balance sheet date. If there is any difference between any critical accounting estimates and assumption made and actual results, assessment and adjustment will be conducted continuously by taking into account the historical experience and other factors. Such assumptions and estimates have a risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next fiscal year. Please refer to the description of the uncertainties of critical accounting judgments, assumptions, and estimation uncertainty below:

(I) Critical judgments for applying the Group's accounting policies None.

(II) Critical accounting estimates and assumptions

1. Inventory valuation

Since inventory must be calculated at the lower of cost or net realizable value, the Company must exercise judgment and make estimation to determine the net realizable value of inventory at the balance sheet date. Due to the rapid changes in technology, the Company assesses the value of inventory due to normal wear and tear, obsolescence, or market sales value not available at the balance sheet date, and reduces the cost of inventory to the net realizable value. This inventory valuation is mainly conducted based on the estimated product demand in a specific period in the future, so material changes may occur. Please refer to Note 6 for details on inventory evaluation.

The carrying amount of the Company's inventories as of December 31, 2023 was NT$617,634.

2. Estimation of impairment of accounts receivable

During the estimation of impairment of accounts receivable, the Company must exercise judgment and conduct estimation to determine the future recoverability of accounts receivable. The future recoverability is affected by many factors, such as the customer's financial position, the Company's internal credit ratings, and historical transaction records, which may affect the customer's ability to make a payment. If there are doubts about the recoverability, the Company needs to evaluate the possibility of recovery for the individual account receivables and recognize them in impairment as appropriate. The estimation of impairment is based on reasonable expectations of future events based on the situation at the balance sheet date; however, the actual results may differ from the estimation, which may result in material changes. Please refer to Note 6 for details on estimation of impairment of accounts receivable.

As of December 31, 2023, the carrying amount of the Company's accounts receivable (including related parties) was NT$1,639,697.

(XIV) Pension

1. Defined benefit plan

- (1) The Company established the defined benefit pension regulations in accordance with the provisions of the Labor Standards Act. These regulations applied to all formal employees who were employed prior to the enforcement of the Labor Pension Act on July 1, 2005, as well as formal employees who chose the old fund mechanism under the Labor Standards Act after the Labor Pension Act took effect. Pension benefits are based on the number of units granted and the average monthly salaries and wages of the last six months prior to retirement. Two units are granted for each year of service for the first 15 years and one unit for each additional year thereafter, subject to a maximum of 45 units. The Company makes a contribution equal to 2% of the total salaries per month as a pension fund and deposit it in the designated account in the name of the Labor Pension Funds Supervisory Committee with the Bank of Taiwan. In addition, the Company assesses the balance in the aforementioned labor pension reserve account by December 31 every year. If the account balance is insufficient to pay the pension calculated by the aforementioned method to the employees expected to qualify for retirement in the following year, the Company will make contributions for the deficit by March 31 of the following year.

(4) The Bank of Taiwan is commissioned to manage the fund of the Company's defined benefit pension plan assets in accordance with the percentages and amount of items as stipulated in the fund's annual investment and utilization plan and Article 6 of the "Regulations for Revenues, Expenditures, Safeguard and Utilization of the Labor Retirement Fund" (i.e. deposits in domestic and foreign financial institutions, investment in domestic and overseas listed equity securities or equity securities through private placement, or investment in domestic and overseas securitization products backed by real estate assets). The relevant utilization status is supervised by the Labor Funds Supervisory Committee. With regard to the utilization of the fund, its minimum earnings in the annual distributions of the final financial statements shall be no less than the earnings attainable from the amounts accrued from two-year time deposits with the interest rates offered by local banks. If the earnings is less than aforementioned rates, the government shall compensate the deficit after being authorized by the competent authorities. The Company have no right to participate in managing and operating said fund, hence the Company is unable to disclose the classification of the fair value of plan assets in accordance with paragraph 142 of IAS 19. The fair value of the composition of the plan assets as of December 31, 2023 and 2022 is available in the Annual Labor Retirement Fund Utilization Report announced by the government.

(5) The actuarial assumptions related to pension are as follows:

| | 2023 | 2022 | | |
|-------------------------|-------|-------|--|--|
| Discount rate | 1.20% | 1.30% | | |
| Future salary increases | 2.40% | 2.40% | | |

The assumptions for the future mortality rate are based on the Taiwan Standard Ordinary Experience Mortality Table No. 6.

The analysis of the present value of defined benefit obligations affected by changes in the main actuarial assumptions adopted is as follows:

| | Discou | ınt rate | Future salary increases | | | |
|--|-------------|-------------|-------------------------|-------------------|--|--|
| | Increase by | Decrease by | Increase by | Decrease by | | |
| | 0.25% | 0.25% | 0.25% | 0.25% | | |

| Impact on the present value of defined benefit obligations | ($ 4,411) | $ 4,551 | $ 3,957 | ($ 3,861) | | |

The sensitivity analysis above is based on the impact of a single assumption which changed while the other conditions remain unchanged. In practice, more than one assumption may change at the same time. The method of analyzing sensitivity and the method of calculating net pension liability in the balance sheet are the same. The methods and types of assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis are the same as those for the prior period.

- (6) The Company's expected contributions to the defined benefit pension plan for 2024 amount to NT$1,878.
- (7) As of December 31, 2023, the weighted average duration of the pension plan is 7 years. An analysis of the maturity of pension payments is as follows:

| Less than 1 year | $ 34,957 |
|------------------|---------------|
| 1–2 years | 18,221 |
| 2–5 years | 41,559 |
| Over 5 years | 50,646 |
| | $ 145,383 |

2. Defined contribution plan

Effective on July 1, 2005, the Company has established a defined contribution pension plan under the Labor Pension Act, covering all employees with R.O.C. Nationality. Under the Labor Pension Act, the Company contributes monthly an amount based on 6% of the employees' monthly salaries and wages to the employees' individual pension accounts at the Bureau of Labor Insurance. The benefits accrued are paid monthly or in lump sum upon termination of employment. The Company's pension costs under the defined contribution pension plan for 2023 and 2022 were NT$30,436 and NT$28,560, respectively.

(XV) Share capital

As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company's authorized capital was NT$3,990,000 and divided into 399,000 thousand shares, of which 20,000 thousand shares were reserved for employee stock warrants, preferred stocks with stock options, or corporate bonds with stock options. The paid-in capital is NT$3,176,890, and the number of outstanding shares is 317,689 thousand in both years, with a par value of NT$10 per share. The Company has received all the capital for the shares issued.

(XVI) Capital surplus

- 1. According to the provisions of the Company Act, the capital surplus including the income derived from issuing shares at a premium and from endowments, in addition to being used to compensate deficit, where the Company has no accumulated losses, shall be used to issue new shares or cash in proportion to the shareholders' original shares. In addition, as per the relevant provisions of the Securities and Exchange Act, where the capital surplus above is allocated for capitalization, the total amount shall not exceed 10% of the paid-in capital each year. The Company shall not use the capital surplus to compensate for the capital losses unless the surplus reserve is insufficient to compensate such.
- 2. The Company's subsidiary, AkiraNET, issued stock options according to the contract (the fair value was US$3,551 thousand as per the results of the appraisal report) as it entrusted Coherent Logix Incorporated to conduct software and chip development and the licensing of relevant intellectual property rights in 2021. According to the above valuation report, Crystal Sky Power had recognized a capital reserve of US$3,551 thousand (approximately NT$98,412). However, the warrant had expired in August 2023, and the Company increased the capital by NT$54,530 according to its shareholding percentage.

(XVII) Retained earnings

1. According to the Company's Articles of Incorporation, if there are earnings at the end of a fiscal year, the Company shall pay taxes first and compensate the cumulative losses; appropriate 10% of the balance for legal reserve, and set aside an amount for special reserve for the amount debited to shareholders' equity recognized for the year. Where there are still earnings, together with the cumulative undistributed earnings from the prior year, they will be handled as cumulative distributable earnings. The board of directors shall put forth a proposal to the shareholders' meeting for a resolution to retain or distribute said earnings. In the case of earnings distribution, the cash dividend shall not be less than 8% of the total dividends paid to shareholders.

- 2. The legal reserve shall not be used except for compensation for the Company's deficit and issue of new shares or cash in proportion to the shareholders' shareholdings. However, in the case of issue of new shares or cash, it shall only be conducted when such reserve exceeds 25% of the paid-in capital.
- 3. (1) In accordance with the regulations, the Company shall set aside special reserve from the debit balance on other equity items at the balance sheet date before distributing earnings. When debit balance on other equity items is reversed subsequently, the reversed amount may be included in the distributable earnings.
 - (2) When the IFRSs were adopted for the first time, the special surplus reserve was allocated in accordance with the letter of Jin-Guan-Zheng-Fa-Zi No. 1090150022 on March 31, 2021. When the Company subsequently uses, disposes or reclassifies the relevant assets. The proportion of the surplus reserve is reversed. If the relevant asset is investment property, the part is reversed upon disposal or reclassification of land; the part other than land is reversed periodically during the period of use.
 - (3) The amount of special reserve set aside by the Company due to the first-time adoption of IFRSs was NT$57,817. In addition, the Company did not use, dispose, or reclassify relevant assets in 2023 and 2022, with the special reserve reversed to undistributed earnings. As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the amount of the special reserve due to the first-time adoption of IFRSs was NT$57,817.
- 4. (1) The shareholders' meeting of the Company passed a resolution on June 14, 2022 not to distribute dividends as there were no earnings as per the 2021 financial statements.
 - (2) The 2022 earnings distribution proposal of the Company passed by the shareholders' meeting on June 14, 2023 is as follows:

| | Amount | | |
|-----------------|--------|--------|--|
| Legal reserve | $ | 1,031 | |
| Special reserve | | 15,995 | |

(3) As proposed by the Board of Directors on March 6, 2024, as there were no earnings in the final accounts for 2023, dividends should not be distributed.

The above-mentioned information on the distribution of earnings as proposed by the board of directors and resolved by the shareholders' meeting is available on the Market Observation Post System (MOPS).

Note 2: The Company's average employee benefit expenses in 2023 and 2022 were NT$678 and NT$653, respectively; the average salaries and wages in 2023 and 2022 were NT$564 and NT$540, respectively; the average employee salary adjustment in 2023 was 4.44%.

Note 3: The Company's remuneration policy is based on the principle of equal pay for equal work. The Company determines differentiated remuneration, adjusts salary, and issues bonuses based on each employee's position, performance, and contribution while regularly reviewing the employees' overall remuneration every year to ensure the competitiveness in the labor market.

- Note 4: The remuneration may be paid to directors and managers when they perform duties related to the Company's business. The amount is based on their participation in the Company's operations and the value of their contributions. In accordance with the Company's Articles of Incorporation, the board of directors is authorized to determine their remuneration according to the general level in the industry. Managers' overall remuneration includes salary, bonuses, and benefits, and is determined mainly based on the salary levels in the market, the performance evaluation indicators suggested by the Remuneration Committee, and individuals' contribution to the Company's overall operations.
- 1. Per the Company's Articles of Incorporation, after cumulative losses are deducted from the Company's profit for the year, if there is a balance, no less than 3% of the balance shall be appropriated for employee compensation and not be greater than 3% for director remuneration.
- 2. The estimated amount of the Company's employee remuneration in 2023 and 2022 was NT$0 and NT$865 respectively; the estimated amount of remuneration of directors was NT$0. The aforementioned amount is accounted for in the salary and wages account.

The employee remuneration and remuneration of directors in 2023 were not estimated due to the Company's losses.

The 2022 employees' remuneration and directors' remuneration were NT$865 and NT$0, respectively, as resolved by the Board of Directors, which were consistent with the amounts recognized in the 2022 financial statements.

Information on employee remuneration and the remuneration of directors approved by the Company's board of directors is available on the MOPS.

After the Company sells raw materials through ZINWELL H.K. to Zinwell Shenzhen for processing and production of finished goods, the Company buys back the finished goods through ZINWELL H.K. through the triangular trade and sells them to the Company's customers. The Company's sales of raw materials to the related party and repurchases of finished goods are priced at cost and cost plus agreed gross profit, respectively. As for the accounts receivable and payable thereof, the Company makes payments to the related party first depending on the related party' funding status, and then receives or pays the net amount after credits and debts are offset on a monthly basis. As for the amounts of said transactions with ZINWELL H.K., the sales income and purchases related to the processing of imported materials, which are double counted, are offset as per the regulations. Such amounts in 2023 and 2022 were NT$1,627,921 and NT$3,467,385, respectively.

IX. Significant Contingent Liabilities and Unrecognized Commitments

- (I) The Company signs a royalties contract with MPEG LA, LLC, InterDigital CE Patent Holdings, SAS, Dolby Laboratories Inc., and HDMI Licensing Administrator, Inc., respectively, and the Company shall pay the royalties at the price agreed in the contract.
- (II) 1. Shanghe Construction Co., Ltd. the contracted construction company of the Company's Chiayi plant, had objections to the amount for the reduction in of the door and window project and filed a lawsuit with the Taiwan New Taipei District Court in August, 2019 to claim that the Company shall make a disputed construction payment of NT$4,625 and the interest accrued. After being tried by the court of first instance in September 2021, the court ruled that the Company shall pay NT$4,225 and the interest accrued, and the Company has recognized litigation losses and other payables totaling NT$4,225. The Company was not satisfied and filed an appeal. On May 18, 2023, the Supreme Court finally ruled that the Company did not need to pay the above-mentioned dispute payment, and thus offset the payable profit of NT$4,225. Please refer to Note 6 (21) for details.
 - 2. Shanghe Construction Co., Ltd. the contracted construction company of the Company's Chiayi plant, claimed that the negligence in many parts of the construction design drawing and the project delay have impacted its construction method and increased the project cost. It filed an appeal with the Taiwan New Taipei District Court in February 2020 that the Company shall pay an additional payment of NT$37,626 and the interest accrued. As both parties have signed a supplementary agreement on the changes in the engineering design project during the construction period, its claim, based on the Company's assessment, is unfounded; as such the Company did not recognize relevant losses for the above-mentioned dispute. As of the date of the audit report, the court of first instance has not yet made a judgment.

The Company will actively defend against said ongoing litigation cases. However, due to the unpredictable nature of legal cases, it is impossible to accurately estimate potential losses (if any). Although the outcome of the lawsuit is yet to be determined by the court, it has no material impact on the Company's operation, finance, and business.

X. Major Disaster Loss

None.

XI. Material Events After the Balance Sheet Date

None.

XII. Others

(I) Capital management

The objectives of the Company's capital management are to ensure that the Company can continue as a going concern, maintain the best capital structure to reduce the capital cost, and provide dividends to shareholders. To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company may adjust the amount of dividends paid to shareholders, return capital to shareholders, issue new shares, or sell assets to reduce debts. The Company adjusts its loan amount due to the funds required for operation. The Company adopts the debt ratio as an indicator to monitor its capital; the ratio is calculated by dividing total debt by total capital. The total debt is the total debt presented in the parent company only balance sheet. The total capital is calculated as the "equity" as in the parent company only balance sheet plus the total debt.

The Company's strategy in 2023 remained the same as that in 2022. As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company's debt ratio was 28% and 27%, respectively.

2. Risk management policy

- (1) The daily operations of the Company are affected by a number of financial risks, including market risks (including exchange rate risk, interest rate risk, and price risk), credit risk, and liquidity risk.
- (2) Risk management is carried out by the Company's finance department in accordance with the Company's policy. The Company's finance department is responsible for identifying, evaluating, and avoiding financial risks through close collaboration with the Company's operating units.

3. The nature and level of material financial risks

(1) Market risk

Exchange rate risk

- A. The Company operates its business transnationally, so it is subject to the exchange rate risk arising from transactions in currencies different from the functional currencies (mainly USD and CNY) used by the Company. The relevant exchange rate risk arises from assets and liabilities recognized.
- B. The Company's management has formulated policies that the Company shall hedge its overall exchange rate risk through the finance department.
- C. The Company's business involves a number of non-functional currencies (the Company's functional currency is NTD). Therefore, it is affected by exchange rate fluctuations. Information on foreign currency assets and liabilities with significant exchange rate fluctuations is as follows:

Price risk

The Company's equity instruments exposed to the price risk are financial assets at FVTOCI held. The Company was not exposed to major price risks.

Interest rate risk of cash flow and fair value

If the Company's interest rate risk comes from short-term borrowings at floating interest rates, the Company will be exposed to interest rate risk of cash flows; loans at fixed interest rates exposes the Company to the interest rate risk of fair value. In 2023 and 2022, the Company's borrowings were mainly denominated in NTD at fixed interest rates.

(2) Credit risk

- A. The credit risk of the Company is the risk of financial loss suffered by the Company arising from the failure of customers or counterparties of financial instruments to fulfill contractual obligations. It mainly comes from counterparties' inability to settle accounts receivable in accordance with the payment terms.
- B. The Company has established credit risk management from the Company's perspective. In accordance with the internal credit policy, each operating entity within the Company must conduct management and credit risk analysis of each new customer before deciding payment and delivery terms and conditions. The internal risk control system evaluates the credit quality of customers by considering their financial positions, past experience, and other factors.
- C. The Company adopts IFRS 9 to set the premise and assumption that when a contract payment is overdue for more than 30 days in accordance with the agreed payment terms, it is deemed that the credit risk of a financial asset has increased significantly since the initial recognition.
- D. Based on the Company's historical experience in payment collection, when a - contract payment is overdue for more than 181 days, it is deemed to have been in default.

- E. After the recourse procedures, the Company writes off the amount of financial assets that cannot be reasonably expected to be recovered. However, the Company will continue to carry out legal recourse procedures to preserve the creditor's rights. The Company has provided an allowance for all losses, and such overdue payments with recourse activities going on amounted to NT$214,775 on both December 31, 2023 and 2022.
- F. The Company has included forward-looking considerations for the future and adjusted the loss rate established based on historical and current information in a specific period so as to estimate the allowances for losses on accounts receivable. The provision matrix as of December 31, 2023 and 2022 is as follows:

| | Not p | oast due | due for 1– 90 days | t due for 180 days | 18 | st due for 1 day or more | | Total |
|--|--------|----------|---------------------------|---------------------------|----|--------------------------------|--------|---------|
| December 31, 2023 Expected loss ratio Total carrying | | 0.29% | 1.43% | 50.33% | | 100% | | |
| amount | $ 1,3 | 34,139 | $ 313,276 | $ 1,198 | $ | 16,058 | $ 1,0 | 664,671 |
| Allowance for losses | $ | 3,833 | $ 4,480 | $ 603 | $ | 16,058 | $ | 24,974 |
| December 31, 2022 Expected loss ratio Total carrying | | 0.09% | 0.86% | 29.42% | | 100% | | |
| amount | $ 1,4 | 62,929 | $ 445,840 | $ 1,261 | $ | | $ 1,9 | 910,030 |
| Allowance for losses | $ | 1,284 | $ 3,830 | $ 371 | $ | | $ | 5,485 |

G. The Company's simplified method for changes in the allowances for losses for accounts receivable and overdue payments is as follows:

| | | | | 2023 | | |
|-----------------------------|----|-----------|------|--------------|----|---------|
| | | | | Other | | _ |
| | 1 | Accounts | no | on-current | | |

| Reversal of impairment loss | (| 11,940) | | | (| 11,940) |
| December 31 | $ | 5,485 | $ | 214,775 | $ | 220,260 |

(3) Liquidity risk

- A. The cash flow forecast is executed by each operating entity in the Company and is compiled by the Company's finance department. The Company's finance department monitors the forecast for the Company's liquidity requirements to ensure that it has sufficient funds to meet operational needs and maintains sufficient available credit lines at all times so that the Company does not violate the relevant borrowing limits or terms.
- B. The remaining cash held by each operating entity will be transferred back to the Company's finance department when it exceeds the amount of working capital needed. The Company's finance department invests the remaining funds in interest-bearing demand deposits and time deposits. There is an appropriate maturity date or sufficient liquidity for the instruments selected by it so as to respond to the forecast above and to provide adequate liquidity.
- C. The details of the Company's unused borrowing facilities are as follows:

| | _Dec | ember 31, 2023 | Dec | ember 31, 2022 |
|------------------------|------|----------------|-----|----------------|
| Floating interest rate | | | | |
| Due within one year | _$ | 1,637,400 | $ | 1,757,299 |

D. The Company's non-derivative financial liabilities are analyzed based on the remaining period from the balance sheet date to the contract maturity date. Except as stated in the table below, the undiscounted contractual cash flow of the Company's non-derivative financial liabilities is approximately equal to the book value thereof and is due within one year in the future. The remaining undiscounted cash flow:

| December 31, 2023 | Less than 1 | | | | | Over : | 5 | |
|--------------------------|-------------|-----|----------|-------|-------|--------|---|---------------|
| December 51, 2025 | year | 1-2 | years | 2-5 y | years | years | | Total |

| Lease liabilities | 778 | | 459 | | 306 | | - | 1,543 |

The Company does not expect that the cash flow in the maturity date analysis will occur significantly earlier or that the actual amount will be significantly different.

(III) Fair value information

- 1. The fair value levels of the financial instruments and non-financial instruments measured using the valuation technique are defined as follows:
 - Level 1: Quoted (unadjusted) prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities on the measurement date. An active market refers to a market in which transactions for the asset or liability take place with sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis.
 - Level 2: Inputs, other than quoted market prices within level 1 that are observable, either directly or indirectly for assets or liabilities.
 - Level 3: Unobservable inputs for assets or liabilities. The Company's equity instrument investments without active markets belong to this level.
- 2. For information on the fair value of investment property measured at cost, please refer to Note 6 (9).
- 3. Financial instruments not measured at fair value
 - The carrying amounts of the Company's financial instruments not measured at fair value (including cash and cash equivalents, notes receivable, accounts receivable (including related party), other receivables, other financial assets, guarantee deposits paid, notes payable, accounts payable, other payables, and guarantee deposits received) are reasonable approximations of the fair values.
- 4. Financial and non-financial instruments measured at fair value are classified by the Company based on the nature, characteristics, risk, and the level of fair value of assets. The relevant information is as follows:
 - (1) The Company's classification is based on the nature of assets. The relevant information is as follows:

| December 31, 2023 | Lev | vel 1 | Level 3 | | Total | | |
|--|-----|-------|-------------|-----|-------|-----|--|
| Fair value on a recurring basis Financial assets at FVTOCI Equity securities | $ | 270 | $ | $ | | 270 | |
| December 31, 2022 | Lev | vel 1 | Level 3 | | Total | | |
| Fair value on a recurring basis | | | | | | | |
| Financial assets at FVTOCI | | | | | | | |
| Equity securities | $ | 204 | $ | _$ | | 204 | |

- (2) The methods and assumptions used by the Company to measure fair value are as follows:
 - A. Where the Company uses market quoted prices as the fair value input (i.e. Level 1), the tools are classified based on the characteristics as follows:

Quoted prices in the market

- B. Except for the above-mentioned financial instruments with active markets, the fair value of other financial instruments is obtained through valuation techniques or with reference to the quoted prices of counterparties. For the fair value obtained through the valuation techniques, the Company refers to the current fair value of other financial instruments with similar conditions and characteristics, the discounted cash flow method, or other valuation techniques, including calculations using models based on the market information available at the parent company only balance sheet date (e.g. the yield curve published by Taipei Exchange and the average quoted price of Reuters commercial paper benchmark).
- C. The output of the valuation model is the estimated value, and the valuation techniques may not reflect all the relevant factors of the financial instruments held by the Company. Therefore, the estimated value of the valuation models will be appropriately adjusted according to additional parameters, such as model risk or liquidity risk. According to the Company's fair value valuation model, management policies, and relevant control procedures, management believes that valuation adjustments are appropriate and necessary to properly express the fair value of financial and non-financial instruments in the parent company only balance sheet. The price information and parameters used in the evaluation process are carefully evaluated and appropriately adjusted according to current market conditions.
- D. The Company has included credit risk valuation adjustments in the calculation of the fair value of financial instruments to reflect a counterparty's credit risk and the Company's credit quality, respectively.
- 5. There were no transfers between Level 1 and Level 2 in 2023 and 2022.
- 6. There are no changes in Level 3 in 2023 and 2022
- 7. There was no transfer to or out of Level 3 in 2023 and 2022.
- 8. In the Company's valuation process for fair value classified as Level 3, the finance department is responsible for independent fair value verification for financial instruments, uses data from independent sources to make the valuation results close to the market level, and confirms that the source of the data is independent, reliable, consistent with other resources, and representative of the executable price, while regularly updating the inputs, data, and other necessary fair value adjustments to ensure that the valuation results are reasonable.
- 9. The valuation model was adopted by the Company after careful evaluation, but using different valuation models may result in different valuation results.

1. Analysis and explanation of the change in the increase and decrease ratio in the last two years (change ratio reaches 20%):

- (1) Decrease in operating loss: Mainly due to the difference in product mix sold and appreciation of the US dollar resulting in the increase in gross profit and the decrease in operating expenses from the previous year.
- (2) Decreases in non-operating income and expenses: Mainly due to the impairment on intangible assets recognized this year.
- (3) Increases in (net loss) before tax: Mainly due to the increase in non-operating expenses.
- (4) Decrease in income tax: Due to the increase in deferred income tax assets and the decrease in deferred income tax liabilities.
- (5) Less net loss before tax, decrease in net loss for the period, increase in other comprehensive income, decrease in total other comprehensive (loss) for the period, and increases in net (loss) attributable to owners of parent, net (loss) attributable to non-controlling interests, total comprehensive income attributable to owners of parent, total comprehensive income attributable to non-controlling interests and earnings per share: All were due to the increase in non-operating expenses from the previous year.
- 2. Reason(s) of any change of the Company's primary business (e.g. changes arising from the adjustment of sale prices or costs, increase or decrease in product mix and production volume or renewal of depreciated products). If there is any existing or anticipated substantial changes of its operational policy, market condition, economic environment or other internal or external factors, the potential effect on the Company's future financial performance of said changes and action to be taken: none.
- 3. Anticipated sales volume for the coming year and its basis, and the main factor leading to the Company's forecast of continuous sales growth or decline: Although the global economy is still hindered by uncertainties such as the effect of monetary tightening, the gradually normalized inventory levels of European and US customers are expected to drive restocking and sales. In addition, the AI wave also fuels the demand for network and communication products such as high-end switches and forms a favorable environment for the sales of network communication products. The Company shall strive to develop and add value to products and continuously collaborate with operators for developing new products while coping with favorable and unfavorable factors of external market.

III. Cash flow

(I) Analysis into the liquidity over the past two years:

| Year Item | 2022 | 2023 | Rate of change |
|-----------------------------|----------|--------|----------------|
| Cash flow ratio | (28.81)% | 60.73% | (310.79)% |
| Cash flow appropriate ratio | (17.56)% | 42.43% | (341.63)% |
| Cash reinvestment ratio | (8.84)% | 16.20% | (283.26)% |

Analytical explanation on the changes in the increase/decrease ratios

Increases in cash flow adequacy ratio and cash reinvestment ratio: Mainly due to the collection of accounts receivable resulting in the net cash inflow from operating activities.

(II) Analysis into cash liquidity in one year ahead:

Expressed in Thousand NT Dollars

- 1. Analysis into changes in cash flow in the one year ahead:
 - (1) Operating activities: Although the global economy is still hindered by uncertainties such as the effect of monetary tightening, with the gradually normalized inventory levels of European and US customers and the AI wave, the operating revenue and gross profit of 2024 will remain stable, and the business is expected to perform normally.
 - (2) Investing and financing activities: Mainly due to the acquisition of machinery and equipment for operational needs resulting in the net cash outflow.
- 2. The remedial measures toward anticipated cash inadequacy and the analyses into the liquidity:

The cash balance and bank credit facilities are sufficient to support the Company's operation, and the indicators such as current ratio and quick ratio remain sound.

IV. The significant capital expenditure in the recent year and its impact upon the finance and business operation:

(I) Fact about utilization of major capital expenditures and the source of the fund so required: In 2016 the Company used its own funds to purchase Class A industrial land in 3,441.24 ping at Chia Tai Industrial Zone to erect Chia Tai Plant for which the Company already obtained factory registration certificate in the first quarter, Year 2019. In the 4th quarter of 2019, the Company erected Hsinchu Plant No. 2 with its own land through an outsourcee. In 2021, the Group, through its consolidated entity AkiraNET Company, entered into the software and chip development and IP license agreement with the US company Coherent with a total contract value of US$21,514 thousand. For the best result of this R&D project, both parties agreed to amend the content of agreement on October 6, 2022, where the amended contract has a total value of US$13,953 thousand. The advanced payment for intellectual property rights in the amount of US$3,579 thousand as the original down payment has been taken back accordingly. In addition, due to the semiconductor supply chain interruption arising from the pandemic, the raw materials planned to be used in the technology in research ran short; therefore, in order to control the development costs and avoid any postponement of the R&D project, the chip development of this project has been re-assigned to Socionext Inc. Socionext Inc. thus carried out the front-end design, back-end specification design and improvement, packaging and testing of the designated chips according to the contract, which amounted to US$10,570 thousand. In 2023, the chip development project of the subsidiary included in the consolidated financial statements AkiraNET was not verified as expected, so the impairment on prepaid technology development fee and intellectual property was recognized. As of December 31, 2023, the prepaid technology development fees and intellectual property royalty totaled NT$37,686 thousand and NT$111,639 thousand, respectively.

(II) The effort to procure additional machines and research & development equipment which would believe to yield such benefits:

During 2023, the Company did not launch purchase of major machine and research & development equipment. This part is not applicable. Prepaid technology development fee The purpose is to lay out future product specifications and increase the competitiveness of the Group's products.

V. The reinvestment policy in the latest year, the major reasons behind the profit loss and the countermeasures plans and the investment plan in the upcoming year ahead:

(I) Reinvestment policies

Here at the Company, we launch reinvestment in response to demand for business operation given account of the future development.

For the reinvestment, we have conducted prudential evaluation on the venues, organization type, shareholding ratio, financial conditions and the like, and take the outcome as the very grounds for policymaking process. Toward the reinvested undertakings, we firmly dominate the business performance, financial conditions to analyze into the result of investment, to facilitate the management authority to conduct follow-up evaluation so as to demonstrate the maximum possible concerted performance (synergy).

(II) The major reasons behind the profit or loss for the reinvestment launched in the latest year and the corrective action plans

The company's reinvestment information in 2023, including investment losses recognized by equity method evaluation in NT$261,505,000. The reinvested company "AkiraNET Company" is still in the product research and development stage and has no revenue yet.

(III) Future investment programs: Primarily to expand the base business-related investment, focusing on the principal business development so as to boost the overall performance.

VI. Risk facts and evaluation

- (I) The impact brought by interest rates, exchange rates, inflation upon the Company's profit and/or loss in the latest year and the future countermeasures:
 - 1. Please explain the impact from foreign exchange profit and/or loss and interest revenues and expenditures upon the Company's profit and/or loss over the past two years, and the Interest revenues and expenditures over the past two years as enumerated below:

Expressed in Thousand NT Dollars

| The percentage of interest revenues and expenditures to the net amount of operating interest B/D | (17.06%) | (4.55%) | |

2. The Company's effort toward the impact to be brought by change in exchange rate, interest rate, inflation upon the Company's profit and/or loss, and the Company's countermeasures:

The change in exchange rate, interest rate, inflation shall form an impact upon the Company's profit and/or loss. The inflation might lead to an increase in costs and expenses. Fluctuations in interest rate would affect the Company's interest income. In the aspect of exchange rates, where the Company revenues are largely denominated in U.S. dollars, the appreciation and depreciation of exchange rate would largely affect the Company's profit and/or loss in foreign exchange and equally affected the Company's profitability. Here at the Company, we, therefore, adopt a natural hedging mode to have the net foreign currency position down to the lowest possible level so as to minimize the potential impact in changes in the exchange rates upon the Company's profit and/or loss. Besides this, the Company's Department of Finance, as well, tries to collect the updates regarding exchange rate, interest rate, inflation in real time to firmly dominate the up-to-date trend of the changes in economic data and, in turn, work out the most appropriate countermeasures.

(II) In the most recent year while the Company engaged in highly risky, high leverage investment, loaning fund to others, endorsements/guarantees and derivative financial instruments, such policies, profitability or loss, the major reasons behind and the countermeasures to be taken in the future.

As of the publication date of the annual report, the Company had not engaged in highly risky, high leverage investment, loaning fund to others. We granted endorsements/guarantees only toward our own subsidiaries and engaged in derivative financial instruments only for hedging purposes. Besides this, we have duly enacted "Procedures for Loaning of Funds to Others," "Procedures for Endorsements/Guarantees," "Procedures for the Acquisition or Disposal of Assets" and "Transactions in Derivative Financial Instruments" which have been officially resolved in the shareholders' meeting. Whenever we engage in relevant business operation in the future, we shall faithfully comply with the relevant provisions.

- (III) The future research & development plans and the research & evelopment-oriented costs the Company is to budget for:
 - 1. The future research & development plans:
 - (1)Here at the Company, we adequately dominate customer needs and put forth maximum possible efforts to satisfy their needs. The long-term cultivated research & development experts in the Company would continually launch deep cultivation into the mainstream research & development technology & know-how.
 - (2) Closely in coordination with the industry characteristics, we integrate into the highest possible competitive edge. We further vigorously boost highly added values to have our products taking the lead the entire industry.
 - (3) We engage in research & development toward high-definition digital satellite and terrestrial broadcasting television receivers, storage and playback systems in possession of the hard disk recording and playback and wireless distribution functions. They further can be used as a center for other home audio-visual equipment.
 - (4) Continually as always, we bring in and cultivate high level research & development experts to further solidify our strength so as to further effectively dominate technology & know-how and opportunities in the markets.
 - (5) We team up with research & development know-how-oriented suppliers into strategic alliance to guide their research & development power into development of new technology & know-how. In turn, our Company has virtually minimized research & development costs and risks.
 - (6) By all available means we closely and firmly dominate the trend of product development so that our products and services are highly competitive amidst fierce competitions and consistent with market demands. In turn, we enjoy the benefits of volume production and advanced research & development fruits.
 - 2. The research & development costs scheduled to be invested: In Year 2023, the total research & development costs invested in the Company accounted for 6.66% of the total operating revenues. In the present year, we shall continually invest huge amount of workforce and funds into research & development. In 2024, the total research & development cost we invest shall account for approximately 5–6% of the total operating revenues.
- (IV) The impact incurred by the changes in major policies at home and abroad, changes in laws in most recent year upon the Company's financial standing and the Company's countermeasures:

Toward the changes in major policies at home and abroad, changes in laws in most recent year, we have worked out and adopted countermeasures as appropriate. That means such changes in major policies at home and abroad are not supposed to bring any significant impact upon our business performance. In the days and years ahead, we shall closely watch relevant information and work out sound countermeasures in due time to satisfy the requirements of the Company's business operation.

(V) The impact of recent annual technological changes (including information security risks) and industry changes on the company's financial business and countermeasures:

Where the technology industry is advancing with each passing day and the changes in the industry and the development of technology will have a certain degree of impact upon the members of our industry. Once our Company fails to cope with the changes in technology or the industry, we shall in real time adjust our strategies or launch products that are competitive enough to meet market needs. These factors might adversely affect the Company's financial standings. To prevent such changes in industry and technology from adversely affecting our Company, the entire staff of the Company would pay close attention to various changes in industry and technology in real time and would evaluate the possible impact from each change. In turn we shall propose effective response strategies and develop products that satisfy market needs to promptly launch competitive products, maintain and enhance the Company's dominating competitive advantage. Countermeasures: The company formulates internal information security policies, plans and implements information security protection and information security policy promotion and implementation. In order to prevent information security threats, the company's information department builds an information security protection system to improve the overall information environment. In terms of security, information security education, training and publicity are carried out from time to time, so as to improve the information security knowledge and professional skills of the company's colleagues.

(VI) The impact incurred by the changes in corporate image in the most recent year upon the Company's corporate risk management and the Company's countermeasures:

As always, we firmly uphold our corporate image through good faith management policy without any intent to strive for unlawful interest at all. In both corporate culture and internal control system, we absolutely on insist such key and decent corporate principles.

(VII) As of the publication date of the annual report, our Company had no plans at all for corporate mergers and acquisitions:

As of the publication date of the annual report, our Company had no plans at all for corporate mergers and acquisitions.

- (VIII) Expected benefits, potential risks and countermeasures of plant expansion: N/A.
- (IX) Potential risks to be faced from centralized purchase or sales and the corresponding countermeasures:

The Company's top five purchasers accounted for about 45% of the Company's total purchases; the largest sales customer accounted for 53% of the Company's net amount of business operation.

- (1) The potential risk of customer concentration might be an event where the Company faces a single customer's order default or order reduction that should have a huge impact on the Company's performance.
- (2) Our Company's countermeasures are to try to boost products' competitive edge and scatter the markets for our sales.
 - (X) The potential risks upon the Company in the event where the directors and supervisors or key shareholders holding over 10% of shareholding each launch huge transfer or replacement and the Company's countermeasures:
 - As of the publication date of the annual report, there had been no directors and supervisors or key shareholders holding over 10% of shareholding each launching huge transfer or replacement.
 - (XI) The potential impact and risks upon the Company in the event of changes in the managerial powers and the Company's countermeasures:
 - In the latest fiscal year and as of the publication date of the annual report, the Company has not undergone a change in managerial power.

(XII) Litigious & non-litigious affairs:

- (1) The Company's litigious & non-litigious affairs or administrative disputes with final and irrevocable court judgment or remaining outstanding in the latest fiscal year and as of the publication date of the annual report:
 - 1.Shanghe Construction Co., Ltd., the contractor builder of the company's Chiayi plant, has There is an objection to the reduction of the amount, and in August 2019, it filed a petition with the New Taipei District Court that the company should pay the disputed construction fee of NT$4,625,000 and its interest. After being heard by the court of first instance in September 2021, it was judged that the company should pay NT$4,225,000 and its interest. The company has already accrued litigation losses and other payables totaling NT$4,225,000. The Company appealed against the judgment. On May 18, 2023, the Supreme Court decided that the Company was not required to pay the above-mentioned dispute payment, and thus the payables were written off with profits of NT$4,225,000.
 - 2. Shanghe Construction Co., Ltd., the contractor builder of the company's Chiayi plant, claims that the construction design drawings have Negligence and extension of the construction period, which affect the way of construction and increase the cost of the project, in February 2020 Monthly appealed to the New Taipei District Court that the company should repay the above-mentioned construction dispute amount of NT$37,626,000 and its Interest. The first instance has not yet decided. Because the two parties have signed the engineering change design project during the construction period The supplementary agreement is based on the company's assessment that its claim is unfounded and has appointed a lawyer to apply to the court The above-mentioned claims were rejected, resulting in no provision for relevant losses for the above-mentioned disputes.

The company will actively defend the aforementioned litigation cases that are still in progress, but due to the unpredictability of legal cases It is impossible to accurately estimate the possible loss (if any) at present. Although the outcome of the lawsuit is pending However, there is no material impact on the operation, finance and business of the Company.

(2) The Company's litigious & non-litigious affairs or administrative disputes with final and irrevocable court judgment or remaining outstanding implicating the Company's directors and supervisors, general manager, substantial responsible person, key shareholder(s) holding over 10% in shareholding in the past two years and as of the publication date of the annual report: None.
